GC sewer rehabilitation grant

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
A state grant is now available to Granite City for the first phase of a sanitary sewer rehabilitation program in the Nameoki area. City Council members were informed Monday night by Richard H. Briceland, director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. Mayor Paul Schuler described the information as "most significant" and told council members that "We are now beginning to see some light" in the city's long fight to correct critical Nameoki area sanitary sewer problems resulting from a high water table and interior flooding. In a letter addressed to Schuler and presented to the council during its regular meeting, Dr. Briceland said: "It is a pleasure to advise you that Step One state grant assistance is available for the completion of facilities planning required for the Granite City sub-facilities planning area (Nameoki)." He added that eligibility for Step Two (specification and design planning) and for Step Three (construction) will be considered by EPA. "If Congress authorizes and appropriates additional funds for grants for sewage works construction to supplement the current program."

The city's eligibility for the planning study as the first step in rehabilitation of the Nameoki area sanitary sewer system was based on a pre-application for state and federal aid made by the city a year ago in conferences at Springfield with Briceland and other EPA officials, according to City Engineer Monroe Brower.

Regional treatment studied

Use of Granite City's primary and secondary sewage treatment facilities to treat sewage now going to the Landowne treatment plant in East St. Louis is being considered as one phase of a regional sewer treatment program to serve other areas, City Council members learned Monday night.

On a recommendation by Alderman Clyde Boyd, chairman of the Street and Alley Committee, the council approved a "letter of intent" by the city to negotiate fee costs and other factors of such a program.

Boyd said officials who are studying various potentials in solving secondary sewage treatment requirements in various parts of the region had requested in a meeting earlier this month that Granite City give some indication in writing that it will be willing to discuss use of the Granite City treatment facilities if this phase of the regional plan is pursued.

Estes certifies—work vital

The Chouteau Town Board, before agreeing to audit the payroll for the highway department Tuesday night, requested that Highway Commissioner James Estes sign an affidavit certifying that all the work the employees did was for the purpose of protecting township roads. Estes agreed and the payroll was approved.

The request was in response to charges by Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks that highway crews had been seen clearing trees and leveling private property, including property near East Chain of Rocks and Maryville roads belonging to Township Auditor Jim Greer. Sparks alleged, "We're in a hassle here about being out of money. That's illegal for us to pay those fellows out there to work on that ground or clean out those state highway ditches." He advised the auditors against auditing Estes' bills until they had investigated whether all of the salary claims were for work done on township business.

Auditor Wilfred "Bud" Eberhardt said, "I would like to look the situation over before I'll approve a bill." Auditor Cletus Bodwell also said he was against paying the bills until it had been determined they were for official township work. Greer said the board lacks the right to approve or disapprove the highway bills. "We are only to audit the bills to determine if there is fraud," Greer said, adding, "Would you say these are fraudulent?"

After considerable discussion, Township Attorney Alan Walker said he felt the board could audit the bills and clear itself from any future actions if Estes would submit an affidavit stating the bills are for proper township work. Township Clerk Patricia Polley then drafted an affidavit which Estes signed. The text of the affidavit follows: "I, James Estes, being first duly sworn, do hereby depose and state that work performed on private properties with township labor and equipment was necessary for the purpose of drainage of water along Old Alton Road, which has no culverts, and that the grading and leveling and removal of (Continued on Page 13)

Baseball bat is cited as weapon in murder

After two days of jury selection this week, the trial of Steve Strubberg began yesterday and continued today at the Madison County Courthouse, with the state presenting its case of murder and burglary against the 19-year-old Kirkpatrick Homes resident.

It is being alleged that he and two juvenile boys planned a burglary at the home of Mrs. Pearl Giffin, 79, of 3107 Kirkpatrick Homes on Feb. 6, during which she was struck four times with a baseball bat and died.

The state alleges Strubberg and Juvenile A entered and burglarized the apartment early on the morning of Feb. 6, that Strubberg hit Mrs. Giffin with the baseball bat, causing injuries that led to her death nearly instantly.

Juvenile B allegedly helped plan the burglary and loaned items to those involved, but did not participate directly.

Assistant State's Attorney Robert Trone opened the state's case against Strubberg, summarizing for the jury what he expects to prove with evidence and witnesses.

Trone said Strubberg and his wife, Diane, were experiencing financial difficulties.

He said evidence will show there was a discussion between the defendant and the two juveniles about burglarizing the Giffin home.

One of the three said he believed Mrs. Giffin kept considerable sums of money in her purse; the three talked for several days about how to get it, Trone asserted.

The prosecutor contended they once discussed breaking out a window in the home so that Mrs. Giffin might cover it temporarily with cardboard and make it easier for intruders to get into the apartment at night.

On the evening of Feb. 5, they discussed it further, he alleged.

After breaking up the Feb. 5 discussion, each went home. In the early morning hours of Feb. 6, they were on the telephone at about 3 a.m., further discussing the issues, Trone alleged.

He said Juvenile A "stated he (Continued on Page 12)

On and off the record

Two reasons to celebrate July 3

Some Quad-Cityans will have two reasons to be in a festive mood Saturday, July 3. The U.S. Bicentennial will be celebrated with a giant Quad-City area parade that day; between 110 and 115 units have registered, and the cutoff date for parade participants will be May 1.

And it was announced yesterday that the 32,000,000 Social Security recipients in the U.S. will receive 6.4 per cent cost-of-living increases starting with their checks received July 3. Another 4,300,000 persons—aged, blind and disabled—will receive a similar increase July 3.

'Fast time' Sunday

Quad-Cityans will lose one hour of sleep during the early morning hours Sunday as clocks will be turned ahead one hour for the beginning of Daylight Saving Time. While Congress continues to debate when Daylight Time should begin and end, the nation's time remains governed by a 1966 law setting the period for Daylight Time from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October. Surveys show most Americans in favor of Daylight Time, especially during the (Continued on Page 13)

Hearings May 15, 22 on county sewer system

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer
The Madison County Board yesterday approved the beginning of work to establish three separate special taxing districts for the proposed four township sanitary sewers and approved dates for public hearings for each area.

The establishing of special taxing districts for the proposed sewer users is necessary in order to sell general obligation bonds to finance the local 25 per cent cost of the sewers. The cost would be much higher if revenue bonds were used, planners note.

General obligation bonds would be paid off by property taxes in the special service areas, while revenue bonds would be paid off by sewer user fees.

The County Board's action tentatively approved the boundaries for each of the special service areas, which are in Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships. Area One includes most of the populated areas of Nameoki Township and most of Chouteau Township south of the Cahokia Diversion Canal. A large sewer will start in southern Nameoki Township and will go north into Chouteau Township, then turn west and end up at the Granite City Sewage Treatment Plant on the Granite City Army Installation property. Smaller sewers will branch out from the main sewer to serve populated areas.

Area Two is primarily State Park Place which is to be served by a sewer system emptying into the Collinsville city sewers. Area Three includes East Madison, the Cloverleaf Addition and Eagle Park Acres. They will be served by a sewer going north from Eagle Park Acres and emptying into existing Granite City sewers near the Granite City Steel hot rolling mill.

The public hearings are to be held in the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville. Residents of Area One will be notified by mail that they are among those proposed to be included in that area and may speak at a public hearing at 9 (Continued on Page 12)

Niedringhaus family part of Bicentennial memories

(33rd of a Bicentennial year Press-Record series)
Inseparably interwoven with this community's past, present and future is the Niedringhaus family, founders of Granite City Steel, still the Quad-City area's largest employer.

Among the thousands of immigrants who came to the United States during the 1850s were Frederick and Marie Niedringhaus, natives of Westphalia. They had eight children and were preceded to America by four of their sons, Frederick W., Frederick G., William F. and Henry. William F. and Frederick G.

became apprentice tanners and roofers in an established St. Louis firm. Each experienced the youth of the traditional self-made businessman of Nineteenth Century America—a humble but respectable home, hard work, combined with strong principles, intelligence and courage, historians relate.

By 1857, these two brothers had saved a sum of money, and—seeking to gratify an innate desire for independence—they resolved to establish their own business. They selected a shop located at Second Street and Cass

Avenue in St. Louis and started a small tin shop of their own. This shop did not differ greatly from other small shops owned and operated by artisans of the time in St. Louis. It was an "insignificant venture" by which two independent craftsmen received a modest living. But, as in many other small establishments throughout the United States, a new spirit sprang—a spirit which historians were later to stress as an important feature of the Industrial Revolution, but which at that time was considered youthful daring and (Continued on Page 13)

Police noticed there was another car on the lot with a cut

Damage to vehicles on the 16th Street lot Monday included two tires on the truck of Tom Glassmaker, Alhambra; a tire on the auto of Vernon Lutz, 3124 Colgate Ave., and a tire on the car of Don Digiripoli, Collinsville.

Two tires were cut on the car of Bobby Cathy, 2819 Pershing Blvd., parked on the Nash Street lot.

The other report Monday was from Mrs. Virgie Hankins, 2748 Harding Blvd., who reported the two front tires of her auto were cut in her driveway, possibly by a juvenile seen playing near the car.

Tires slashed Tuesday or early Wednesday morning were on three vehicles, also in the Nash Street parking lot.

James Corbett, 2701 Denver St., reported three tires, including the spare tire, were cut on his truck, and John Wilkinson, Edwardsville, reported all four tires on his auto were cut.

Police noticed there was another car on the lot with a cut tire, but the owner did not report the incident.

There was one other incident Tuesday in the 16th Street parking lot as the pickup truck and camper of Lester Kynion, 3205 Fehling Road, was broken into and items valued at about $400 were stolen, including a green tool box and tools, a bucket full of tools and a welding machine.

Accurate addresses necessary

To reduce the number of undeliverable Mother's Day cards and packages this year, the U. S. Postal Service again is asking the public to use greater care in addressing and to include a return address.

"It may seem strange, but each year the Postal Service receives thousands of Mother's Day cards and packages that cannot be delivered as addressed, or sent back because there's no return address," Postmasters Herbert A. Backs of Granite City, William Clinton of Madison and William Singleton of Venice said.

As an example, an estimated 10,000 pieces of Mother's Day mail last year wound up in the "deadletter" branch of the Chicago post office. The post office was able to forward or return only those letters with addresses inside.

Mrs. Keeton was a member of the First Church of the Nazarene.

Other survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Nellie Miller and Mrs. Mable Farmer, both of Chester, Ill.; five brothers, Virgil and James Keeton, both of Granite City, J. A. Keeton, Edwardsville, Harvey Keeton, Chester, Ill. and Arlie Keeton, Willis, Calif. and two grand-children.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

FIRST GRADERS at Harris School cleaned the city-owned playground on Eighth Street near their school during the past month. Madison elementary schools and St. Mary's have been participating in an anti-bitter and safety program. Porter H. Cawly, principal at Harris School, began the program in 1969 at Harris School. It now has become a part of the regular program of Madison schools.

Musical safety program today

A safety and Bicentennial musical program open to the public will be held at 7 p.m. today in the Madison High School auditorium with 100 students participating.

In addition to musical numbers, under the direction of Mrs. Valerie Stevens and Arthur Timmons, Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk will award prizes to children participating in the Madison elementary schools safety and anti-litter poster contest.

During the past month school officials, assisted by the Madison police and fire departments have been making a concentrated effort to make citizens and especially small children safety and non-litter conscious.

A first, second and third-place award in each of the elementary schools for posters will be presented by the fire department and two bicycles will be awarded by the police.

The program first began in 1968 under the leadership of Porter H. Cawly, principal of Harris School, and has done much to reduce accidents among the younger children, according to school officials.

Miss GC Pageant Sunday afternoon

A new Miss Granite City will be named Sunday afternoon in the traditional Miss Granite City Pageant at the Washington Theater.

Eight young women will compete for the 1976 title in the Jaycee-sponsored contest.

The extravaganza starts at 2:15 p.m., Sunday, with Ollie Raymond, KMOX-TV weatherman and host-producer of "St. Louis Illustrated," as master of ceremonies.

Tickets are available at $2 each from any Jaycee member, or may be obtained at Stefanie's Shop and Marilyn's House of Fashion in Downtown Granite City; Hudson's Jewelry in Belmore Village Shopping Center; and Merle Norman Cosmetics in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center.

The 1975 Miss Granite City will be crowned by the retiring title-holder, Miss Melanie Asadorian, who represented this area at the 1975 Miss Illinois Pageant last July.

Winner of the Miss Granite City Pageant will receive personal gifts and an expense paid trip to Aurora, site of the 1976 state pageant which is scheduled to take place July 19 to July 24.

The candidates and their talent are: Miss Karen Ann Koliste, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Koliste of Madison, organ selections; Miss Mary Christine Stauffer, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stauffer, Granite City, vocalist; light opera; Miss Lynette Ann Seka, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Seka, Granite City, dramatic presentation.

Miss Genia Ann Forshee, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Forshee, Granite City, piano solo; Miss Sandra Louise Kohn, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kohn, Granite City, dramatic presentation; Miss Janet Lynn Moss, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Moss, Granite City, dramatic excerpt and song.

Miss Judith Ann Cummings, 23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cummings, designer, seamstress, poetess; Miss Patti Lynn Stiegelmeier, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stiegelmeier, Granite City, vocalist-country western.

A dress rehearsal for the contestants is scheduled at 8 a.m. Saturday, according to Owen Ross, pageant chairman.

Other Jaycee members serving on the pageant committee, include Don Vaughn, Ed Gammon, Jerry Gann, Dave Johnson, Frank Woods, Guy Weible, John Jones and Bill Weible.

German music by ensemble

The Symphonic Band and Wind Ensemble at SIUE will present a concert using works by German composers Sunday at 8:30 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

The program will open with Felix Mendelssohn's Overture for Band and continue with Richard Strauss' Suite in B-Dur, Opus 4.

David Ferguson, a member of the SIUE music faculty, will be the featured piano soloist for Paul Hindemith's Konzertmusik, Opus 49. The concert will conclude with J. S. Bach's Toccata and Fugue in D Minor.

Before coming to SIUE as a music professor, Ferguson spent two years in Europe where he studied at the Vienna Academy, making tours in France, Italy and Germany as a soloist and accompanist. He also appeared in programs on the Italian and French television networks. Ferguson's special field is chamber music.

He received his bachelor of music degree from the University of Texas and his master's and doctorate from Columbia University. At one time, he studied at the Juillard School of Music with Rosina Lhevinne.

2 Cor. 3:17 "...where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty." One of the most famous of all quotations in history is Patrick Henry's, "Give me liberty or give me death." Man has different ideas of what constitutes liberty. To some it's do your own thing, to others, live and let live, multitudes are not at all sure what liberty really is.

Liberty in Christ means you live only to please Him. God comes first in your life. In ALL areas. Seek His kingdom first and all things will be added unto you. Adherence to the code of doing unto others as you would have others do unto you, disciplining yourself to bring passions and carnal desires under control by God's spirit is the true liberty for which man seeks. There is liberty for you in the Spirit of the Lord. Today.

Tolliver renamed Venice School Board president

The Venice Board of Education re-elected Jack R. Tolliver to a third one-year term as board president at its reorganizational meeting Monday night.

Mrs. Jacquelyn Leatherman, who was renamed to the board for a second three-year term in the April 10 election, was elected board secretary at a salary of $158 per month. Prior to her initial election in 1973 she had served on the board by appointment.

The secretary's post is rotated annually by board members and last was held by Richard H. Bailey, also renamed to the board in the April 10 election.

Tolliver, 50, of 1250 Klein St., is a nine-year member of the Venice School Board and is employed by the federal government in St. Louis.

He is a strong supporter of programs involving Special Education Region One and an advocate of efforts to reduce the Venice School District's budget and relieve its financial problems.

Tolliver is a graduate of Venice High School, is active as a coach with St. Mark's basketball teams and with Venice Boy Scout Troop One. He is married to the former Evelyn Hartman and the father of five sons and one daughter.

Mrs. Leatherman was born in Granite City and has resided in Venice for 27 years. She has been a deputy assessor in the Madison County assessing office for the past six years and previously was a deputy in the Venice Township assessor's office for 10 years.

She has three sons, Michael, an industrial engineer, Fred, a Monsanto Chemical Co. employee, and Patrick, a Venice grade school student.

She is a member of St. Mark's Catholic Church, Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307 Auxiliary, and Venice Homecoming and Memorial Association and has served in the Madison County Democratic Precinct Committee's organization.

Mrs. Leatherman was educated in local schools and attended St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing for one year.

In the April 10 election, she tallied the highest number of votes among five candidates.

A canvass of the April 10 election results was made immediately before the board's formal meeting began Monday. Voting tallies remained unchanged from the unofficial figures published in the Press-Record's April 12 issue.

The board adopted a resolution accepting the results of the canvass, with Board Member Charles Burger voting "nay" and Board Member John Boushadow voting "present." No questions concerning the election figures were raised by either man during the canvass.

The official canvass showed a total of 949 votes cast, with 661 recorded at Venice Precinct One (Venice High School) and 287 at Venice Precinct Two (Eagle Park Improvement Association Hall).

Candidates, the number of votes cast for each in Precinct One and Two and totals, listed in sequence, are as follows:

Mrs. Jacquelyn Leatherman, 259, 287, 546; Richard H. Bailey, 224, 250, 514; Thomas M. McIntosh, 365, 3, 368; Gerald D. Cicio, 350, 3, 353; and Mrs. Lucille Kalogerou, 36, 1, 37.

The board rehired Lawrence Hartman as board attorney and Donald Phillips as school district treasurer and increased the monthly salaries of both men.

Hartman will receive $350 per month, an increase of $75, and Phillips will be paid $175 per month, a raise of $25.

The First National Bank in Madison will continue as depository for Venice School District funds, it was decided.

Tolliver announced committee chairmanships for the ensuing year as: Personnel—William J. Fechte, purchasing—Richard H. Bailey, and building and finance—Elmer D. Taylor.

In other business, the board approved payment of most monthly bills and payroll with exception of a bill from Triangle Heating for repairs to an upright freezer. The unit still is not in working order and application will be made to replace the freezer with reimbursement from the state's non-food assistance plan.

Superintendent of Schools Robert N. Vickers advised the board.

Bills from the district's building fund were approved, but payment was delayed two weeks upon request of Supt. Vickers, who noted the sum of $10,000 belonging to the fund is in passbook savings and will accrue considerable interest before the April 30 payment deadline.

Three bids were opened from individuals wishing to purchase a 10-year-old IBM electric typewriter, with Ruth Voegle receiving the machine on a bid of $302.

Supt. Vickers explained the district recently purchased a new IBM typewriter and was offered only $165 in trade-in.

Approval was granted to conduct a Head Start program in the Venice School District, starting June 7. The seven-week program will be under the supervision of Arthur Clark, assistant principal at Madison High School, who is serving as area Head Start director.

The board retained Joe Willie Roberts to serve as truant and security officer for the district on a three-day-week basis for the remainder of the school year.

Roberts has experience as a former deputy sheriff and replace two off-duty Venice police officers who currently fill the post.

A $169 citizens' band radio was stolen from the auto of Don Blair, 2113 St. Clair Ave., parked in the north parking lot of the Granite City Press-Record, 1815 Delmar Ave., it was discovered at 1:45 p.m. Monday. The dashboard of the car was damaged as the radio was torn out.

study of last year's summer band program will be made to determine if the series should be repeated again this year. Students attend daily sessions for three hours over a six-week period, Supt. Vickers said.

The school district administrator was authorized to apply for an extension of time to complete work under the Life-Safety Code.

Board members were informed the Southwest Divisional meeting of the Illinois Association of School Boards will take place at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in the cafeteria at Granite City High School.

Dr. Joseph Cronin, Illinois superintendent of schools, will be the principal speaker.

*$1.4 million for Madison County manpower program

Congressman Melvin Price (D-23rd Ill.) announced Tuesday the release of over $1 million to the 23rd Congressional District in emergency public service employment funds.

The funds will be used by area prime sponsors to forestall layoffs of public service employees under Title II of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

The St. Clair County Consortium will receive $1,263,451, Madison County $1,484,515 and East St. Louis $566,522. The allocations are based on a formula involving the average number of unemployed in the three highest consecutive qualifying months.

Congress appropriated a total of $1.2 billion in a fiscal year 1976 supplemental appropriation for public service employment jobs. Eighty per cent of the appropriation or $860 million will be spent for CETA jobs nationwide with the remaining 20 per cent in discretionary funds.

In addition Cong. Price announced the release of over $1.3 million in federal funds for the youth employment program in the 23rd Congressional District. Prime sponsors under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act are to receive the funds to provide summer jobs to area youths.

The prime sponsors will operate a nine week summer employment program providing job opportunities at the minimum wage of $2.30 an hour to youths age 14 to 21 from economically disadvantaged families.

The fiscal year 1976 appropriations of $528,420,000 are expected to provide approximately 800,000 summer jobs nationwide. This is an increase over the number of jobs authorized last year. In the 23rd Congressional District the St. Clair County Consortium will receive $329,037, Madison County $502,184 and East St. Louis $539,699.

Wrestling gold medal for U.S. is goal of Jan Gitcho at '76 world olympics

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Staff Writer

Mishaps and injuries in the sport of wrestling occur frequently, often discouraging a promising athlete.

But for Granite City's Jan Gitcho, 26, his misfortunes and frustrations have served as motivating forces in moving him to conquer many of the best matmen the world has to offer, enroute to preparing for the 1976 Summer Olympics at Montreal, Canada.

A graduate of Granite City High School where he was a standout matman, and holder of a degree in economics from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville where he continued his wrestling prowess, Gitcho recalls the most motivating frustration of his career.

"My college was favored to capture the national collegiate crown in 1972, my senior year. We flew to New York for the tournament but we were disqualified for failing to register in time.

"I also had a personal disappointment there, because the wrestler who won everything in my weight class I had beaten before, 5-0."

Sparked by the incident to make a crucial comeback concerning his career, Gitcho faced the fact that if he were to resume his wrestling career, he would have to learn freestyle competition wrestling, an aspect of the sport he had ignored as a collegiate matman.

Mastering freestyle in less than a year, the determined Gitcho swept to the championship of world game competition in 1974 and again in 1975 before suffering an injury which threatened to end his career at its height.

"I was working out in St. Louis," he recalls, "and injured my left knee."

"Following two operations, I found myself entertaining thoughts of hanging it up."

He was inactive for three months, in which time his left leg had drawn tight and had become weak. Gitcho also gained six pounds over his 155-pound competition weight.

WRESTLING CHAMPION Jan Gitcho of Granite City displays a trophy presented him this month after defeating seven straight foes to claim the 1976

He concluded that his wrestling goals had not yet been fulfilled.

"In January of this year," said Gitcho, "I began an extensive conditioning program involving running and weightlifting with my legs."

Upon learning of Gitcho's intentions the National Amateur Athletic Union selected him to compete in world cup competition.

He lost his opening bout 6-5 to an Iranian wrestler and then defeated a Canadian for 10-2 and a Russian matman 15-4.

"That tournament was a testing ground for me, and was a definite deciding factor as to whether or not I was on the comeback trail."

Gitcho has been spending four days a week at the University of Iowa for extensive workouts with 1975 Olympic gold medalist Dan Gable.

"This month's national championship was reassuring and perhaps I can now realize my final goal in the sport, earning a gold medal in the Olympics."

Gitcho believes that last year's injury which deactivated him also resulted in his returning as a much better wrestler.

"I had lost a considerable amount of quickness, which is essential to an offensive wrestler," he explained. "This forced me to change to a defensive style of competing.

Amateur Athletic Union national freestyle wrestling championship. The honor earned him a berth in the U.S. Olympic trials training camp at Cleveland, Ohio.

"Although I've regained most of my swift movements, I have discovered that I can earn more points wrestling defensively."

"Instead of shooting in on an opponent and attempting a one-point takedown, I'll now stand back and let him come at me. If I can execute a takedown, I can pick up two points for putting him on the mat."

The Montreal Olympics to Gitcho mean more extensive training at three different camps. But, in all other respects, it is "just another tournament."

He notes, "World game competition is held once a year while Olympic competition comes once every four years. That is the only actual difference between the two, other than the fact that world games are a series of tournaments."

"But a wrestler faces the best from all over the world in both." When asked if age will decide when he retires from the sport, he answered, "My day will come the day after I win a gold medal for my country."

"That is the ultimate achievement in the sport."

Holder of other track titles, Carter eyes Tri-City crown

Don Carter of Hillsboro, Ill., has the lead—features race victory—toward a possible first-ever late model stock car division track championship at Tri-City National Speedway. He will try to add to the lead in this Saturday's racing program beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Carter holds a five-point margin over former Tri-City titlist Bill Myers of East Alton, 235-230, in Gateway Auto Racing Association point standings.

Myers finished second last weekend behind Carter in the 25-lap main event, and both drivers placed third in their preliminary races.

A late model stock car campaigner at the local speedway for many years, Carter has never won a season title here but has not been merely a "bridesmaid" at other speedways.

"I began my racing career in 1956 at Brownstown, Ill.," recalls Carter, "and won that track's title in my rookie season."

Carter went on to claim Brownstown honors three years in a row, and has driven to track championships at other speedways—Godfrey, Jacksonville, Macon and Centralia. Favoring short-track racing over half-mile ovals, he said, "Quarter-mile racing provides a lot more action and it isn't quite as hard on a car's motor and running gears."

Operator of a truck stop near Greenville, Carter has one of the most unique driving styles of any person in the sport.

Carter has only one arm. He steers his late model car with one hand while clamping his artificial arm onto a steel bar near the seat for support while going through the high-banked corners.

He also holds a remarkable record of having never earned a race car over onto its top.

"I've never in my whole career flipped one," says Carter, "but I once had it so high in the air that persons in the pits could read the lettering on the passenger door, which normally is exposed only to fans in the grandstand."

Commenting on the caliber of competition he defeated here last Saturday, Carter said, "Any time a driver has a Bill Myers or Russ Wallace hugging his rear bumper, it's tough."

"But, I've raced against these men for many years and I know they will not do anything that would damage our cars or intentionally spin me out."

Father of two girls and a son, he is looking forward to the day when his son is experienced enough to climb into the driver's seat of his stock car.

"At age 19," says Carter, "he is having a successful campaign in street class racing at the Centralia speedway."

"I'd like to win the title here and then apply my experience and knowledge to my son's career as a member of his pit crew."

In sportsman class racing here, defending champion Mike Carter and Granite City's Dean Aerne are deadlocked in the point standings, 235 each.

Aerne was victorious in that division's main event last weekend, but Wallace earned points with a second-place finish in the feature race and by claiming a heat race.

He played guard and was noted as a ball handler. He retired from pro ball in 1973 and is now in middle management at McDonnell Douglas.

Those in the YBA program here come from the housing projects in Granite City, Madison and Venice. The week program was arranged by David Morgan of the Granite City Housing Authority and Edward Foley of the Madison County Housing Authority.

The youngsters spent three hours at the YMCA swimming, working under Tucker's direction, and eating. A hot dog and bean feed was hosted by Graham's Business Products and Cionko's Market.

"Since basketball was invented by the YMCA, it's only natural that the YMCA participate in its development. We think the new program is the finest adaptation yet conceived. The values and human goals of the program—together with development of sports and skills—will make the YBA a dynamic force," Harold Rudolph, executive director of the local "Y," commented.

He played in the Pam Am Games and as an all-star on the Don Carter of Hillsboro, Ill. (left) during the weekend at Tri-City National Speedway. Carter, a one-armed driver, was presented an Easter basket full of 'goodies' to go with his prize money by Flagman Larry Koch, who costumed himself in keeping with the holiday. Carter won the 25-lap late model feature race and will attempt to capture this Saturday's main racing event here when the action resumes at 7:30 p.m.

Rusick wins, Cougars take meet championship

Three Cougar players took first place to lead the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville team to the championship of the eight-team Northeast Missouri State University tennis tournament in Kirksville, Mo., during the weekend.

Kent Smith, Bill Rusick and Eduardo Almeida captured firsts in the third, fourth and sixth singles brackets in pacing SIUE to its 35 points for first place.

Northwest Missouri State University was the nearest competitor with 24 points.

Indiana State of Terre Haute followed with 20 points. The rest of the team points were: Illinois State, 10 points; Bradley University, six; Missouri State University, three; Drake University, one; and the University of Missouri-Rolla, no score.

Smith, who has compiled a 15-3 record thus far, played in the third singles match for the Cougars and defeated four opponents in winning the No. 3 bracket title. At the No. 4 spot, the Cougars got another first-place performance from Rusick of Granite City. Rusick had missed his last few matches before the tournament because of illness.

The newest member of the Cougar squad is Almeida. He continued his unbeaten record as a Cougar by winning the No. 6 singles bracket.

The Cougars' first and second doubles teams also won in the tournament over the weekend.

Brian Miller, who lost his first match in the No. 2 singles competition, teamed with Smith to win the first doubles contest. This combination had compiled a 10-5 doubles record before the tournament.

Arjun Fernando and Rusick were back together again after Rusick's layoff, and this pair took the championship in the No. 2 doubles competition.

Together, they compiled a 13-3 doubles record prior to the meet. SIUE will be in the 16-team Drake University tourney today and Friday.

Vital series with Eastern here for baseball Cougars

After a rough weekend for Coach Roy Lee and his Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville baseball team, they are preparing for another big weekend.

The Cougar baseballers, now 14-0 after dropping their last five games, lost heartbreakers in two wild games at Carbondale Easter Sunday, 8-5 and 13-7.

In each contest, the Cougars blew early leads. In the first game, Jack Scarborough hit for SIUE with a double and romped home on Pat Scholz's single.

In the second contest, the Cougars jumped out to a 2-0 lead as Dave Schaake led off the second frame with a single. Lee, coaxing a walk, scored after Jack Scarborough doubled sharply down the third base line.

SIUE has now won 19 of its last 21 games at home and is 24-8-1 for the season. The two losses were to Louisville, Ky. For the Cougars, their four-game series with Eastern Illinois U. here this Saturday and Sunday were crucial before SIUE's recent bad luck but is even more so now.

Eastern, currently 26-5, is the Cougars' biggest rival for a spot in the Division II NCAA Midwest regional tournament.

Even the Cougars' 10-9 victory over Eastern in the Galveston, Tex., tournament, over the spring break wouldn't be enough to prevent the Panthers from getting the nod should SIUE fail to at least take three of the four.

Cougar hitters didn't suffer in the five-game losing streak. Still leading the pack is Tim Twillman's .356.

He is followed by the injured John's .353 and Urban's .325. Scholz' .321, Brown's .318, Schaake's .286, Bob Martenbacher's .281, Scarborough's .256 and Bill Lee's .246. Pat Leonard, who has been used infrequently on the mound as well as as a designated hitter, has hit .357.

4 Cougar JVs

Four Granite Cityans are members of the junior varsity baseball team at SIUE this spring—freshmen outfielders Paul Muehl, 5-10, 185, and William Sikes, 6-2, 210, and freshman infielders Kevin O'Shea, 5-11, 155, and Daryl Page, 6-0, 165. ## All-star Tucker teaches 100 at basketball clinic

Over 100 youngsters participated in a Youth Basketball Association clinic featuring Al Tucker, retired Cincinnati Royal pro basketball player, held at the Tri-City Area YMCA.

YBA is a new program developed by members of the National Basketball Association and the YMCA for boys and girls aged eight to 12.

"YBA basketball is an entirely new concept in youth basketball and has been in the developmental stage for more than two years. Players wear team uniforms, have a national YBA registration card and receive complete coaching on basketball skills at all levels of competition," E. A. Karandjeff, president of the YMCA board of directors, reports.

"YBA basketball is more than just a game. All training plans for players, parents and coaches stress values development, with an effort to improve the quality of human life."

Tucker, an ex-NBA player, met and worked with all of the children in the program. He played his high school ball in Dayton, Ohio, and college basketball at Oklahoma Baptist.

He played in the Pam Am Games and as an all-star on the same team as Earl Monroe. His professional basketball was in both leagues as he played for Seattle, Indiana, Miami and Cincinnati.

He played guard and was noted as a ball handler. He retired from pro ball in 1973 and is now in middle management at McDonnell Douglas.

Those in the YBA program here come from the housing projects in Granite City, Madison and Venice. The week program was arranged by David Morgan of the Granite City Housing Authority and Edward Foley of the Madison County Housing Authority.

The youngsters spent three hours at the YMCA swimming, working under Tucker's direction, and eating. A hot dog and bean feed was hosted by Graham's Business Products and Cionko's Market.

"Since basketball was invented by the YMCA, it's only natural that the YMCA participate in its development. We think the new program is the finest adaptation yet conceived. The values and human goals of the program—together with development of sports and skills—will make the YBA a dynamic force," Harold Rudolph, executive director of the local "Y," commented.

Kahok rally tops GCHS South nine

Collinsville High School scored eight runs in the final inning yesterday in a baseball contest here with GCHS South, defeating the Warriors 10-7. Randy Lierly was on the mound six innings, yielding two hits and three runs.

South collected 11 hits and made one error to Collinsville's 10 and three runs.

South collected 11 hits and made one error to Collinsville's 10 and three runs.

third-inning runs to the Kahoks while South tallied five in the same inning.

Tom Henrich, Keith Champion and Jeff Scarborough singled, Eldon Warfield doubled, Mike Clark walked and Keith Moran and Ed Prazma singled.

Champion and Scarborough both doubled in the fourth for a Warrior run, and in the fifth Moran reached on an error, Marfield, Scarborough and Champion, two each, and Moran, Smith and Prazma.

A warning that Quad-City residents guard against fraudulent practices of men claiming they represent the Interurban Water Co. or Illinois Power Co. was issued by officials here today after cash and items valued at more than $500 were stolen Wednesday morning from the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Brennan, 606 Fourth St. Madison, by two men representing themselves as water company workers.

There also were two incidents of men representing themselves as Illinois Power Co. workmen yesterday.

Stating they were checking the plumbing in the neighborhood, the men saying they were with the water company and were let inside a home.

While one man was accompanied to the basement the second stayed upstairs and apparently took a grey metal box containing personal papers, insurance policies, $50 in cash, two Series E $200 bonds and one Series E $100 bond, in addition to a Christmas card with a $50 bill in it.

The two were white men. One was described as 30 years of age, of stocky build, and medium complexion, and wearing light-colored clothing. The other was described as about 30 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches tall, of stocky build, with dark complexion and wearing a blue jacket.

The men were driving a brownish colored car, the victims reported.

A water company spokesman said a second incident occurred Wednesday afternoon. The company issued this statement:

"We received a call from a gentleman called the water company stating that someone had called his premises and wanted to make an appointment to check the water for softness, and wanted to know when it would be convenient to inspect the premises.

"Neither of these two instances were authorized personnel of the water company. If a man from the water company knocks at your door, he will be uniformed, and a vehicle plainly marked with our name will be parked in front of your premises.

"If you are in doubt as to whether the party at your door is official, please free to call our office for verification.

"If you receive a call on the phone and you feel the call may be bogus, ask the caller his name and tell him to hang up and you will call the water company right back and ask for them."

Very similar methods were used by two men who represented themselves as Illinois Power Co. employees in two incidents yesterday.

At 12:20 p.m., an elderly couple residing in the 2200 block of Adams Street reported $30 had been taken from them by men posing as power company employees.

The husband said he was walking his dog at his home when a man with a flashlight showed some kind of badge and identification card and said he was supposed to inspect the wiring in the home.

The husband let him in and the worker began ordering the victim to turn on and off various lights in the house. During this time, the man let a second man into the house.

The first man then took the husband to the garage, saying he was going to inspect the garage wiring while the second man remained in the house with the wife. He told her she had overpaid her power bill by $30 and he gave her a $50 bill, asking if she had $30 change.

She gave him the change and the second man also went out to the garage. When they left, she found the man had not given her the $50 bill.

At 1:05 p.m. yesterday, there was a second report from a woman who said two men matching the descriptions of those in the earlier incident had come to her house, saying they were with the power company. She said they pushed her way in and went from room to room turning on and off lights. She said she asked for identification and one showed her a card with a photograph on it. She asked to look closer at the card, but the man put it away.

When she said her husband would be home in a few minutes, the two men left the house.

Both men were described as large, having dark complexion, possibly of Mexican ancestry. One weighed about 190 pounds and was wearing a dark suit with a red emblem on a breast pocket.

The other weighed about 205 pounds and had black hair and a zip-up jacket, possibly yellow.

South, North in round robin baseball series

GCHS South will host its second annual round-robin baseball tournament at Wilson Park diamonds one and two with GCHS North, Blytheville, Ark., Johnston City, Ill., and the host Warriors participating in the two-day event tomorrow and Saturday.

The series will be preceded at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow with ceremonies at diamond one, with Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, Granite City Park President Henry Gabriel and newly-elected Granite City Park President Thomas Miesky in attendance while South High pitcher Tony Stajduhar plays the national anthem on a trumpet.

During the ceremonies, the four high school teams will line up along the four base paths.

Two games will be played simultaneously at 4 p.m. tomorrow—Blytheville vs. South on diamond one and Johnston City vs. North on diamond 2.

Immediately following the two contests, South's High Red Pepper Club, sponsored by Beverly Frazier, will assist in hosting a pot luck meal for everyone at the park, between diamond two and the rink.

Competition will resume Saturday, with Blytheville and North playing on diamond one at 10:30 a.m., and Johnston City meeting South on diamond two at the same time.

On Saturday afternoon, at 12:30, Blytheville and Johnston City will play on diamond one, and at 2:30, North and South will meet each other on diamond one—for the first time this season and for the first time in the two-year-old round robin series.

In last year's games, South and North each won two games, while Johnston City lost three and Peoria Limestone lost two and won one. The contest last year between South and North failed to materialize due to rain.

Parking ban on Madison school field

Players and spectators in the Madison softball leagues at the Third Street diamond will no longer be able to park on Madison Junior High School property.

The action was taken by the Madison Board of Education Tuesday night.

Although the liability question was the major reason, it was noted by a board member that when the field is full of cars, many of whom are non-residents of Madison, a ball diamond in the southeast corner cannot be used by Madison children who frequently play

Miofsky heads GC School Board

Thomas Miofsky was elected president of the Granite City School Board and Donald Stucke and Harold Davis were re-elected as treasurer and secretary, respectively, at a reorganizational meeting Tuesday night at the board office. Miofsky succeeds George Moore as president.

The board also reappointed William Schooley as school attorney and agreed to keep the secretary's salary at $800 per year.

As the board made the transition, the newly-elected member, Stephen Saltich, was introduced and seated, as the retiring member, Carl Macios, addressed the members.

Macios said, "I have enjoyed the time I spent working with the board and feel, although things have not always run smoothly, that this is one of the best educational systems in the state."

Committee appointments for the ensuing year included:

Norman Hall, representative, and Miofsky as alternate of the Special Education Board; George Moore, as delegate with Stucke as alternate, to the Southwestern Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards; Stucke as delegate and Miofsky as alternate to the Large District Council; Harold Davis as member, and Steve Saltich as alternate, to the Area Vocational School.

Monroe Worthen, member, and Norman Hall as alternate, to the Citizens Advisory Council; Saltich as member and Miofsky alternate to the Title I Advisory Council; Worthen, Moore and Miofsky as chairman of the policy committee; negotiation committee for the crafts, Hall as member and Miofsky as alternate, and for the teachers, Moore and Worthen, with Stucke as alternate.

Regular semi-monthly meetings of the board will remain on the first and third Tuesday of the month, to convene at 7:30 p.m. at the board office, 20th and Adams streets.

In business before the reorganization, board members approved requests for leaves of absence for Jan Jackstadt, Parkview School teacher, and Doris Peterson, Wilson School teacher.

They also approved bills of $42,088 in the educational fund; $180 in the joint agreement fund; $21,326 in the building fund; $60,237 in the transportation fund; $2,763 in federal funds; $337 travel allowance, and a total of $63,054 for cafeteria supplies.

A special purchase of field marking compound for $340 was approved by the board, as were payments of $185 to Certified Welding for emergency repair work to a steam line at South High School, and $282 to MacLair Asphalt Co. for maintenance in the school district.

Robert Maxwell, vocational director, submitted a Vocational Education Reimbursement Claim which represents about $63,000 in vocational reimbursements to the district for the second semester of the 1975-76 school year, for approval of the board and signatures.

The resolution approving the canvass of the April 10 election of two members of the Board of Education for three-year terms was presented and accepted.

Former officers, Moore, president; Davis, secretary and Stucke, treasurer, were authorized to sign checks on behalf of the school district until May 18, when new signature plates for the new officers will arrive.

Use of facilities was granted to Washington School PTA to use the school and grounds for a carnival on May 26, and to South High School Band Parents and the South Letterman to sponsor a concert by Maynard Ferguson and his orchestra on May 15 in the Memorial gymnasium.

Board members also granted permission to the Science Club at South High School, with a 25-student membership, to take a trip at their own expense to Chicago from April 30 to May 2. They will be accompanied on the educational tour by four adult chaperones.

The board announced during the meeting that the Illinois Office of Education will host a one-day workshop from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday in Mount Vernon, on "The Citizens Advisory Council."

Owen Humphrey, curriculum coordinator of the Granite City District, will be one of the speakers at the session to be held in the Holiday Inn.

The Southwestern Divisional meeting of the IASB will be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at South High School cafeteria, featuring Dr. Joseph Cronin, state superintendent of education, as guest speaker. He has selected "The Future Prospects for Education in the State of Illinois" as his topic.

Board approval was given for three administrators and any board member to attend at a cost of $6 per person. Trip requests were granted to Alan Crider to attend the National School Public Relations Association convention in Philadelphia, Pa., on July 12-15, and for Mrs. Norma Hand to attend a meeting this week on "Child Abuse" in Milwaukee, Wis., at the invitation of Head Start.

Tully Heubner, director of business affairs, presented blueprint plans for a new automotive shop at North High School. After discussion, the board members requested they be returned for further planning and explanation of the construction and specific types of shop courses to be accommodated.

May try court test on Chouteau funds

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

A court test may be sought to determine whether a township's voters have the right at an annual town meeting to appropriate surplus funds as they see fit, heated discussions at a Chouteau Town Board of Auditors meeting Monday night indicated.

At that township's annual meeting April 13, the electors— all registered voters in the township who attended— approved transfer of $30,000 in "surplus" funds from the general town fund to the general road and bridge fund.

The township's attorney, Alan Walker, issued a legal opinion after the meeting that the electors do not have the authority to transfer funds on a motion from the floor at an annual town meeting and that, therefore, the motion was out of order and void.

Chouteau Township Highway Commissioner Jim Estes disagreed with the opinion at Monday night's Town Board meeting, noting that his attorney, William Schooley, has a different opinion. He said Schooley advised him the electors could make such a transfer.

Walker, who was present Monday night, said he had the statutes further and held to his contention that the action was out of order.

Estes differed with the 22-5 vote tally at the Town meeting as reported in the meeting's minutes, saying he counted the hands and the vote as 25-4 in favor of the transfer.

Calling Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks dictatorial, Estes commented, "You are ignoring the will of the people."

Sparks said he believes electors can transfer surplus funds from township accounts to the highway department at the annual town meeting, but only if legal notices are printed and published, alerting all the township's citizens that the issue is to be brought before the electors at the meeting.

Estes disagreed, saying he feels the electors can bring up any topic they wish at an annual town meeting and vote on it.

Notices that the annual town meeting is to be held are published and posted in advance, he contended.

Sparks responded, "We will leave it to the decision of our attorney and your attorney and if it becomes necessary to take it to court, we will take it to court."

Estes answered, "Then we will take it to court."

Auditor James Greer asked, "Then the board doesn't want to go along with the vote of the people at the annual town meeting?"

Sparks said, "I don't think the electors at the annual town meeting have the right to bring it up from the floor. If that were the case, anyone could fill the house and pass anything he wanted."

Greer questioned further, "You mean everything to be brought up has to be posted in advance?"

He followed his question with a motion that the board "conform with the will of the electors at the town meeting and transfer $30,000 from the general town fund to the general road and bridge fund."

"That's the will of the people," Supervisor Sparks asked for a second on the motion three times, after which he declared the motion dead for lack of a second.

Estes responded, "That motion may be dead, but that money isn't dead."

Sparks countered, "I don't think the law gives electors the right to do it and our attorney tells us so."

He disagreed with a contention by Estes that the township is keeping massive surpluses in funds, especially in the general assistance fund, where there was a $57,000 balance at the end of the 1975-76 fiscal year.

The supervisor said one serious accident or a large group of transients who moved into the area and qualified for general assistance could "eat up" such a surplus in a short period of time.

"I'm obligated to keep a sufficient balance in general assistance," he said.

Estes countered, "I'm obligated to fix 50 miles of roads every day."

"The motion died. If you want to sue us, sue us," Sparks said.

Estes answered, "You are a dictator then."

Greer said, "The electors voted. We will have to go to court for the electors to get their way."

He said that electors "have special rights" and contended, "The citizens are allowed to bring up any business they wish."

Auditor Cleus Bedwell, who had remained out of the discussion earlier, commented, "I am not dumb enough to hire an attorney and pay him money and not listen to his opinion. I'm going to listen to his advice."

Estes responded, "You know that every attorney interprets everything a little differently."

The board let the issue drop on that note, unless Estes initiates a suit between the township and its highway department to determine if the action of the auditors was legal.

Enrollment uptrend at university

Student enrollment at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has risen more than three-and-a-half per cent over last year at this time, according to spring quarter figures released Monday by the admissions and records office.

With 385 more students than last spring, enrollment has climbed this week to 11,012. Robert Bruker, director of admissions and records, said. This is the seventh consecutive quarter that enrollment at the educational institution has shown an increase.

The figures do not include students enrolled in SIUE programs at U. S. Military Airfield Command bases throughout the country and in the Portuguese Azores. Nor do they reflect enrollment in extension courses taught in areas away from the SIUE campus.

Statistics from other years show that 10,027 students were enrolled at SIUE during the 1975 spring quarter and 10,100 students were enrolled in the same period of 1974.

Traditionally, enrollment is lowest during the spring quarter at most universities. At fall, enrollment at SIUE was 12,212.

A breakdown by classes at the undergraduate level shows that current enrollment includes 2,385 freshmen, 1,788 sophomores, 1,903 juniors and 2,963 seniors.

At the graduate level, there are 2,303 students attending the university along with 122 unclassified students. There are 122 students in the School of Dental Medicine.

Two children in the car also were injured. Christopher Harris, 2 months, also of 125 Garesche Homes, was admitted for observation with abrasions to his forehead.

April Harris, 2, of the same address, was checked and x-rayed and was released with no apparent injuries.

Plan for Madison refuse system stirs discussion

A proposal by Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison to install a mechanical refuse collection system brought about a lengthy discussion at the Madison City Council meeting Tuesday evening.

Third Ward Alderman Ronald Grzywacz, a member of the Finance Committee, raised the question of cost and priorities.

He noted that the police department is short of manpower, that Marvin Owca, who resigned, has not been replaced and Sgt. Richard Kreisbik is on sick leave with a possibility he will not return.

Grzywacz said that police cars also are in need of replacement and repair.

First Ward Alderman Robert Don Reeves said, "I don't believe any department should be shorted on manpower for the benefit of another city department. We also have a fire truck that needs replacing and this should be kept in mind."

Other questions raised were the width of the alleys.

The trash containers reportedly are four feet wide and the truck needed for the system is eight feet wide. Some areas of the city have 12-foot-wide alleys.

The council approved the advertising for bids for a side-loading truck and rear-loading truck and to obtain all cost factors on the refuse system for further consideration.

Mayor Sasyk said that the system will not lay anyone off work, but as people retired the openings would not be filled and that he felt after a few years the system could mean large savings to the city.

The council was informed that the law suit by the City of Madison against the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission (EOC) has a preliminary hearing set at 1 p.m., May 3, in Court Room Three at Edwardsville.

The dispute involves the EOC moving from the Madison Memorial Center, Washington and Third streets, West Madison, as a day care center, and the alleged loss of several kitchen appliances reportedly belonging to the city.

The council approved a resolution that the Headquarters Installation Support Unit, Aviation Systems Command Post, (Army installation) be recommended as the site for the location of a National Academy for Fire Prevention and Control.

The council also authorized the Venice-Madison Unit 307 American Legion Auxiliary to hold Poppy days May 21 and 22.

Survivors include a brother, Larry Sader of Chicago; her stepfather, C. J. Avers of Granite City, and two aunts.

Auto strikes railing, flips

Kenneth Justice, 20, of 26 Briarcliff Drive, was injured when his southbound car went off Route 151 at 3:10 a.m. Tuesday, skidded about 100 yards, struck the end of a guardrail, spun along the inside of the guardrail several times and then turned over and over, coming to rest on its top in the yard at 2311 Independence Drive, according to police reports.

Officers noted the car traveled about 325 yards from the place it left the road to where it came to rest on its top. He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted for surgery. He suffered a dislocation of his left leg, abrasions to his back and injuries to his left leg.

Fisk re-elected Madison School Board president

Harold T. Fisk, a member of the Madison School Board for the past 12 years, was re-elected to his second one-year term as president of the board in a special reorganizational meeting Tuesday night.

The board elected Donald R. Boyer as secretary and renamed William Kinder as the board attorney and Ray Kozielek as district treasurer. Boyer succeeds Chester L. McManaway as secretary.

Fisk, Boyer and McManaway were elected April 10 to new three-year terms on the School Board.

The board reorganization meeting followed a regular board session in which board members completed an official canvass of the vote cast in the April 10 election.

Results of the canvass, showing no change in the tallies announced earlier, gave Fisk 1,097 votes, Boyer 1,067 and McManaway, 1,055.

The canvass also gave a vote tally of 541 votes to Donald Garrett, a Madison City Council member who also had sought election to one of the three board seats.

The canvass showed a total of 1,651 votes cast, with 86 spoiled ballots and 38 write-in votes cast for ten other persons.

The board adopted rules and regulations for School Board members, with the only change from previous years providing for a 4 p.m. closing for the board administration office. Previously the office closed at 4:30 p.m.

Engraved plaques were presented for service on the board by Superintendent John Falchiff. The awards went to McManaway for 21 years on the board; Fisk, 12 years, and Boyer, three.

In other action, the board authorized a Madison High School band trip to Elkhardt, Ind., April 22 through April 24 for Dunbar sixth graders to visit Onondaga Cave on May 6, and for Dunbar School to present a Biennial program on Friday, April 30 at 10 a.m.

The board accepted with regret the resignations of Adam A. Burniski and Arthur J. Christie who will retire at the end of the current school term.

Both Burniski and Christie were commended by the board, and the superintendent was instructed to send a letter and present a plaque of appreciation to both men upon retirement.

Both men are on the Madison High School faculty. Burniski has taught in Madison for 30 years and Christie for 19.

The board also approved the placing of a four-foot fence around the Louis Baer school for the protection of the children and to keep cars off the playgrounds.

Suit against truck firm in Dwight mishap

Attorney General William J. Scott on Monday filed "the first salvo in a war on mishandling of dangerous substances in Illinois." He filed charges against the trucking company blamed for leakage of bromine gas that caused evacuation of Dwight, Ill., April 12.

Scott said the suit, before the Illinois Pollution Control Board, will necessitate "a thorough board investigation into what caused the leak and what could have been done to prevent it."

This will help lay the groundwork, Scott said, for "new regulations to reduce the chances of future incidents like this, and to cope more effectively with any leaks or spills that still occur."

Scott promised immediately after the Dwight incident to introduce in the legislature another bill to control transport and handling of dangerous substances. An earlier bill by Scott was defeated.

His suit alleges that Consolidated Freightways Corp. of Delaware, through improper storage, handling or transportation of highly toxic bromine, caused air pollution violating the state Environmental Protection Act.

The suit, the first of this kind filed by Scott, asks for a fine of $10,000, the maximum penalty, and a cease and desist order that would require the company to make "significant new efforts" to safeguard against leaks.

Higher net income for General Steel

General Steel Industries had net income for the three months ended March 31, 1976, of $1,147,000, or 46 cents per share of common stock, compared with net income of $1,092,000, or 43 cents a share, in the first quarter last year, it was announced at the annual meeting Tuesday by W. Ashley Gray Jr., chairman and chief executive officer.

GS's sales in the first quarter this year were $13,874,000, compared with $15,234,000 in the same period last year.

James A. Van Sant, president and chief operating officer, pointed out that sales in the first quarter of 1976 were down nine per cent from the first quarter of 1975, but profits were up five per cent.

Reid said this reflected a strong effort to control costs and inventories which was intensified in 1975, a period of tightening and testing for the corporation and its manufacturing facilities in view of the recession.

GS's net income statement for both years includes a tax credit representing partial realization of the company's tax loss carry-forwards.

GS's earnings before the tax credit were $88,000, or 23 cents per share of common stock, for the first quarter of 1976, compared with $55,000, or 12 cents per share, in the first quarter of 1975.

Debt repayments of $1,500,000 thus far in 1976 have reduced outstanding indebtedness to $11,815,000. This compares with indebtedness of $15,925,000 a year ago.

Gray announced that an agreement in principle has been reached to refinance the outstanding debt. The proposed agreement provides for a $9 million term loan payable over a five-year period and $3 million revolving credit.

Although the complete terms have not been finalized, the agreement includes covenants similar to those now in effect. However, he said, the company feels the new agreement will provide it with a greater degree of financial and operating flexibility.

The backing of orders for GS's five manufacturing divisions stood at $21,618,000 at March 31, compared with $18,840,000 at the end of 1975.

Gray said, "The economy overall is gaining strength. While GS faces continued inflationary pressures, we are looking ahead to another profitable year in 1976."

Van Sant said GS's industrial markets appear to be "returning to more normal levels" and "our divisions and their managements have come through the trying months of 1975 in better and better condition to profit from the economic recovery."

Taylor S. Desloge, vice president, treasurer and secretary, was elected to the board of directors, succeeding Thomas H. O'Leary.

Other directors were re-elected at the annual meeting, held at division offices of GS at 8400 Midland Boulevard, Louisville.

The current operating units are: Arrow-Saylor Wire Cloth; Flex-O-Lite; Standard Pipe Protection and GSI Engineering, all based in the St. Louis area; National Roll near Pittsburgh and the Simplicity Engineering Co., a subsidiary at Durand, Mich.

Students plan outdoor program

Granite City elementary school students will perform a play on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in a Gym-Jam outside the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center on Nameoki Road.

Margaret Roberts, chairman of the annual event, said that presentations will include folk dancing, rope jumps, yo-yo skills, kite flying, and numerous games that have been established throughout the year and are still popular.

The public is invited to attend free of charge.

Rites Saturday for Mrs. Herron, 79

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Friday at the First Baptist Church of Golden Gardens, East St. Louis, for Mrs. America Herron, 79, of East St. Louis, a sister of Madison residents.

She died Saturday, April 17, at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis.

Survivors include sons, the Rev. W. C. and Harvey Herron and a daughter, Mrs. Josephine Banks, all of East St. Louis; four sisters, Mrs. Mae Bell Wilson, Mrs. Nona Frowell and Mrs. Adell Morgan, all of Madison, and Mrs. Mae B. Cox, East St. Louis.

Baseball bat

was going to hit the place that night and Strubberg was going with him," Trone further alleged.

"A" said he needed a screwdriver. Juvenile B put the telephone down without hanging it up and got a screwdriver which he threw out the window to A, who also had put his phone down and went out to a point under that window, Trone alleged.

The two then returned to their telephones and Strubberg got on the phone and said he needed a coat and gloves. A returned to B's home, where he got a coat and hat from B, Trone said he hopes to prove.

The telephone conversation continued until about 3:30 a.m. or later, Trone said.

Trone alleged A and Strubberg said they were leaving to burglarize the Giffin apartment and B said he did not want to participate and would remain at home.

He stayed in the window of his home watching for the two to return, Trone told the jury.

"About 4 a.m., or a few minutes after, B saw A return to his residence. About five minutes later, Strubberg came back."

"He recognized Strubberg and he recognized his own coat which was loaned to Strubberg," Trone said he will show. B then allegedly called A and said, "We got in the place and Steve killed the old lady," Trone said he was told.

"Then told B, 'Steve wants to talk to you,' and Strubberg got on the phone, Trone alleged.

He said Strubberg allegedly said, "We hit the place and I want you to go back and get the ballbat. I'll do anything for you if you will go back and get the ballbat. I killed the old lady."

Trone alleged Strubberg is said to have told B at least three times during the conversation that he had killed the resident of the apartment.

The state also hopes to prove B finally agreed to go to Mrs. Giffin's apartment and retrieve the ballbat, according to Trone.

Strubberg allegedly then said he lost his cigarettes, one of his gloves and the screwdriver.

B said he could not get out then, but at about 6:05 a.m. on the day of the murder B got A and the two allegedly went to Mrs. Giffin's home, finding the missing glove on the ground on the way.

The screwdriver they found leaning against the front door outside of the apartment; A allegedly said he was "afraid to go back in there," but the two finally "got up there and went inside the home," Trone alleged.

The prosecutor said he hopes to prove that B picked up the ballbat from inside the apartment and the two returned to A's apartment with the ballbat, gloves, screwdriver and Strubberg's cigarettes, which they also found.

No one was awake downstairs, so they went to an upstairs bedroom and told Strubberg, "We got all of the stuff," but got no response, it is alleged.

A relative told them to leave cigarettes on the table in the bedroom and the juveniles went to the bathroom and washed the blood off the ballbat, Trone said his evidence indicates.

They then returned to a bedroom and told Strubberg that they "got all the stuff," Strubberg acknowledged this statement, Trone alleged.

Trone returned his opening statements to the period of time during which the initial burglary occurred and said the state's evidence indicates Strubberg and juvenile A entered the home by tearing the front screen door screen, removing a window pane from the front door, and reaching through to unlock and open the door.

They allegedly found Mrs. Giffin asleep in bed. Strubberg had the ballbat and tried to hit her, but said he couldn't do it and gave the bat to A, it was alleged.

A said he could not do it and gave it back to Strubberg who "took it back and delivered four blows with the ballbat and, as a result, death was practically immediate," Trone alleged.

John Henderson, 288 Kirkpatrick Homes, testified Wednesday and again today. He related that he had seen a videotaped statement Feb. 7 to Granite City police, and then answered questions before the jury.

"I could tell it was him," he said at one point in describing Strubberg's return to the place where Strubberg lived.

Henderson also told of loaning a hat intended for Strubberg's use.

A Granite City police officer was to be today's second witness.

The defense attorneys said they would withhold their opening statements until the state had presented its case and the defense was ready to begin.

Circuit Judge Moses Harrison II agreed to allow the defense to hold its opening statements. Trone began calling Granite City police witnesses who introduced evidence from the crime scene.

Among those called yesterday were Detective and Evidence Officer James Lohmeyer, Detective William Harris, Patrolman Steven Willard and Detective Anthony Eck.

Also called to testify how they found Mrs. Giffin's body were her son, Fred J. Giffin Jr., and her daughter, Mrs. Opal Sipes. Mrs. Sipes said she tried to pick up her mother for her regular beauty appointment, but was unable to get an answer at the door.

She used a key to try and enter, but a night latch kept her from opening the rear door all the way.

She said she was unable to see Mrs. Giffin through the crack in the door, so she called a woman neighbor, C. She could use telephone.

She called her mother's home, but was unable to get an answer. She next called her brother and sister to tell them something was wrong.

She said she then went to the front door of Mrs. Giffin's home and saw the screen door was out. She opened the screen door and tried the front door, finding it was not locked or latched.

Mrs. Sipes said she pushed the door a little way to see if the night latch was still hooked, but the door did not stop. "I just could not go in," she said, so she ran back to the neighbor's apartment and called police.

Officer Willard and Fred Giffin entered the apartment with Mrs. Giffin's two daughters behind them. They found Mrs. Giffin without signs of life in bed.

Mrs. Sipes said she then fainted and was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital. She recalled Fred Giffin telling her just before they took her out, "Oh, my God, Don't you girls come in here."

Giffin said that when he found his mother dead, he just sat down and held her hand.

"I just sat there with her hand in my hand and just looked at her while she was lying there. I stayed in that bedroom even after they took her out," he testified.

Evidence presented yesterday by Trone included: the ballbat to bat alleged to be the murder weapon; Mrs. Giffin's purse, allegedly found on the roof above the home; a pill container with Mrs. Giffin's name on the label, allegedly found in a trash can at a residence; a leather working glove found in a clothes hamper at the same residence; numerous photos of the body, the murder scene and the autopsy; and a pair of blue jeans, the relevance of which had not yet been disclosed in the trial.

Testimony for the state continued today, with numerous prosecution witnesses to be called.

Hearings

a.m. Saturday, May 22.

The public hearing for Area Two will be at 9 a.m. Saturday, May 15, with the hearing for Area Three following at 11 a.m., also on May 15.

The primary business to be considered at the public hearing, other than objections from those who do not want their properties included in the special service areas, will be the consideration of selling sufficient bonds to cover the local share of construction of the sewers.

Those at the Area One hearing will discuss selling $3 million in general obligation bonds. Area Two will discuss selling $425,000 worth of bonds and the figure for Area Three is $850,000.

The necessary documents for authorizing the hearings were Assistant State's Attorney County Board, despite lengthy discussion at yesterday's meeting in which some board members said they were not clear what the county's obligations would be for those who do not pay their taxes.

Walter "Dick" Sparks, board member and chairman of the county's special sewer committee, assured the board their vote yesterday did not finally set up the districts, but only gave the committee the authority to begin the necessary work and hearings to establish them.

Sparks assured them the action would not be final until the groundwork had been completed. About June, a final ordinance establishing the districts is expected to be presented to the County Board for final adoption, he said.

Assistant State's Attorney Don Smith said he would study the county's obligations further in a matter and will report back to the board before the June meeting. He indicated that the county could take liens against any big losses.

impotence.
During those early years, tinware was cut by hand and soldered together. However, in that age of rapidly developing machinery, improved methods were soon discovered.

Tinware manufacturers in France developed a machine which stamped out pots and pans from a single sheet of tin plate.

This machine produced shiny, lightweight kitchen utensils far superior to the cast-iron vessels then in use, and much more attractive.

As soon as possible, the brothers imported one of the machines and a workman to operate it.

In 1866, William F. and Frederick G. Niedringhaus incorporated the St. Louis Stamping Company.

With small presses, they began the manufacture of kitchen utensils and in this way joined those early pioneers who helped to satisfy the demands of the American people for something finer than the previous generation had possessed.

Scanty information exists about the early years. It is known that the brothers were both capitalists and laborers.

Typical of a period in industrial history when ownership was synonymous with active management and work, the brothers labored at the machines, experienced all unfamiliar problems, and guided the efforts of their few employees.

Undoubtedly, the venture required courage. The brothers were young, with limited funds and business experience. At the same time, economic and social changes of great magnitude were in progress throughout the country.

It was a period of revolution in industry as a result of science, practical innovations and enlarged opportunities.

The population was surging westward due to the growing flood of immigrants. The West was growing, towns were developing into cities, small firms into large corporations, workers into specialists.

Such rapid expansion, feverish activity, change and change, and alarming complexity in every walk of life may have frightened some men. But to the Niedringhaus brothers, men of hard work and enterprise, the enlargement of economic life meant opportunity.

By spirited energy, and determination, they developed a tremendous business and, within a short time, were prosperous manufacturers.

The brothers continued to work feverishly, spending long hours at the factory—engrossed in details of production, or absorbed in plans to capture new markets, and sometimes even taking turns at the stamping machines when rush orders piled up.

William lost his health due to overwork, and his physician advised him to forget the business, see new places, and cultivate new interests.

Therefore, as soon as his health permitted, William went abroad.

While traveling in Europe, he happened upon a product which he knew would promote his St. Louis business.

It was in the late 1860s when a steamboat on which he was a passenger pulled up to the wharf of a small Rhenish village to unload.

William strolled through the village and came upon a show window in which he saw displayed kitchen utensils which were coated with a glossy substance.

Entering the shop, he examined the ware and found it felt as smooth as "frozen satin."

Realizing the potential demand for such products in the United States, William sought the proprietor to learn how they were made.

The proprietor consented to sell him the secrets of the entire process. He followed by a trip to the Rhenish factory, learning what ingredients went into the enamel and how it was applied to sheet iron.

Then, armed with notes, he hurried to the nearest port and returned to St. Louis.

Within a short time, he and Frederick developed and patented the process on which was founded the success of the major industries of the United States—the making of "granite ware," so called because ground granite was the basic material in the enamel.

Sales of the St. Louis Stamping Company doubled and redoubled as housewives sought the new utensils.

As production and sales increased, the brothers became more confident and began planning the further expansion of their business.

For many years, the St. Louis Stamping Company imported from Wales the sheet iron used in the manufacture of granite ware.

It was the custom of the brothers to purchase an extra year's supply with each order. This proved to be an excellent policy in 1877 when the Welsh mill was destroyed by fire.

The following year, the St. Louis Stamping Company made certain of a source of supply by erecting the Granite Iron Rolling Mills at Second and Drexel Streets in St. Louis.

To obtain sheet iron of the quality comparable to that purchased from Wales, the company imported skilled Welsh workmen to labor in the plant.

The Granite Iron Rolling Mills plant consisted of: 3—heating furnaces, 1—annealing furnace, 1—24" sheet mill, 1—24" sheet mill, 3—pan furnaces, 3—sheet furnaces, 3—hammers, 9—charcoal pits, 2—annealing furnaces, 1—coal mill, 2—annealing furnaces and accessories.

Additional equipment was added in succeeding years; in 1888, six tin mills, and in 1890 galvanizing pots.

Frederick G. Niedringhaus was president of this company and William F. was vice-president and manager.

From this humble beginning developed the Granite City Steel Company. The company dated its founding in 1878, thereby recognizing the Granite Iron Rolling Mills as its earliest predecessor.

Establishment of the Granite Iron Rolling Mills enabled the St. Louis Stamping Company to stop importing sheet iron.

However, it still was necessary to purchase foreign tin plate on which the company paid a duty of $22.40 per shipping ton, because the low price of the American product had stifled development of the tin plate industry in the U. S.

In the 1880s, the Niedringhaus brothers became interested in politics, especially the Republican party, which advocated high tariffs to protect infant industries.

In 1888, Frederick G. was chosen the Republican candidate for the United States representative in what then was the Eighth Congressional District of Missouri.

He was elected in a walkover and promptly associated himself with the group of protectionists led by William McKinley of Ohio, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Congressman Niedringhaus was prominent in promotion and formulation of the Tariff

Act details for procedure "are hazy at this point," he hopes to discuss the program with council members within the next week. He followed by a trip to Springfield to confer with EPA officials on a procedural pattern.

Schuler told the aldermen, "This is a start on a brand new pattern. No one knows right now how to proceed, but I propose an informational meeting in which we can work out the details of what we want to do."

This letter from EPA has opened for us an avenue toward a 75 per cent federal grant to do something about sewer rehabilitation. We are now beginning to see some light."

The pre-application for state and federal help to solve the Nameoki area sewer dilemma was filed after city officials received a report on underground water conditions and recommendations for a sewer repair and rehabilitation program prepared by the Sverdrup & Parcel survey firm of St. Louis; Dr. Robert Koepke of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville; and staff members of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Regional and Area Planning Commission.

As a result of that report, the city purchased equipment to televise underground sewer lines and for grouting and seal openings and cracks where possible in the lines where defects are revealed by the televising process.

This system has proved far more successful than city officials first anticipated and has been responsible for strengthening a number of sewer lines where more serious problems have been developed, according to Brewer and City

Bill, furnishing data about tinplate consumption which has helped in writing the provisions of the bill.

McKinley introduced the bill in April 1890, describing it as "a bill to protect the interests of American in every line."

Protection was advocated in every paragraph and Clay and Garfield agreed, as a temporary aid to young industries, but as a permanent commercial policy of the United States.

The McKinley Act of 1890, leaving the title of "An Act to Reduce the Revenue and Equalize Duties on Imports."

It was passed by Congress in October, increasing the general level of duties to an average of 45 per cent.

Beyond a doubt, this act was the greatest in every paragraph and industry in the United States had ever received.

Within a short time, the nation was to become the greatest steel producer in the world.

Two months after it was passed, tinplate was commercially produced by the Granite Iron Rolling Mills.

At the time, many Americans disliked the measure, fearing it would cause exorbitant rises in the cost of living. Many protectionist congressmen, including McKinley, were defeated in the Democratic landslide of November 1890.

Nevertheless, McKinley returned to Ohio and became the Republican candidate for governor of his home state in 1891. An important issue in the vigorous campaign was and record in Congress and the Tariff Act.

During the campaign, McKinley, with a touch of showmanship, distributed 100,000 souvenir tin plate medals from tinplate rolled by the Granite Iron Rolling Mills and pressed by the St. Louis Stamping Company.

Street Superintendent Lionel Portell.

Step One of the program for which funds are available would involve preliminary planning and a study of potential work necessary to rehabilitation of Nameoki area sewers, Brewer said. This would include determination of a cost estimate for which a Step Two grant (design planning) would be requested.

Briceland noted in his letter to Mayor Schuler that funds would not be available for the planning work done prior to approval of a Step One grant, which apparently would rule out a reimbursement for the work done on the Sverdrup & Parcel survey during 1974 and 1975.

Brewer explained, however, that the preliminary study that would be made under a Step One grant by EPA would be expedited to a great extent by use of material gathered in the Sverdrup & Parcel survey which was made under a $30,000 cost estimate.

Schuler explained that the pre-application for state and federal aid a year ago projected a cost estimate of $17 million for the Nameoki area sewer rehabilitation, based on the Sverdrup & Parcel contention that it would cost that amount to actually replace all sewers that are below the present water table in the Nameoki area.

"Actually," the mayor said, "we now are talking about a rehabilitation program that would cost from $2 to $3 million."

According to Brewer, the approval by EPA of a Step One grant for sewer work in the Nameoki area is highly encouraging "because EPA usually approves the first step without approving the rest of the program (design and construction)."

Much of the work involved in sewer rehabilitation would consist of the repair of 16 existing sewer breaks in the Nameoki area, Brewer noted.

on property owned by Dominic DiMartino, who said it was necessary for drainage of township roads."

He explained that clearing of property southeast of Chain of Rocks and Maryville roads, was necessary in order to borrow dirt to help fill a flooded area and direct the water into a ditch. Estes contended that any ditch which removes water from the highway is his responsibility.

"I have to clean out state highway ditches to get my ditches to drain," he related. Sparks asserted, "The township has not a single road back there to protect. You have an authority to spend one dime back there."

Estes responded, "If it floods people, it's my business. I have a lot of ditches."

Sparks disagreed, saying the drainage ditches are the responsibility of the Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice Drainage District except where they are erected beside a highway and draining it.

"It's the same thing as your pushing those trees over on the other side of English (Place)," Sparks said. Estes responded that work in that area was necessary to clear a ditch there.

"Not a strip 100 feet wide," Sparks replied, "I've kept the holes in the roads patched. When you talk about taking the money we conserve and try to keep the taxes down, and you take our money and force us to raise the taxes, I'll vote against it. I'll say you are wasting it."

Estes replied, "I've kept the holes in the roads patched. When you talk about taking the money we conserve and try to keep the taxes down, and you take our money and force us to raise the taxes, I'll vote against it. I'll say you are wasting it."

Sparks charged, "If I had had the money you have had as highway commissioner these years, there would be money in the bank."

After Estes signed the affidavit, the board agreed to pay highway labor bills. Since the highway department funds were depleted, it was necessary for the board to transfer $600 from the township fund to the highway fund to meet the payroll.

The $600 was payment for the work the highway department did in digging and chipping a road to the township garage. It previously had been approved by the auditors.

Even with the transfer, Sparks said, highway accounts lack sufficient money to pay necessary municipal retirement and taxes on the nearly $1,900 payroll.

Sparks charged that Madison County Treasurer George Musso has agreed to release a partial payment of taxes to the Chouteau Township highway department this week, and that this could be used for that purpose. But he said he did not feel the board should appropriate funds not yet in its possession.

Despite the objection, town auditors approved the payroll.

Members of the Quad-City Bicentennial parade committee are Don Adams, chairman, of Granite City; Tom Hundley and Raymond Burton, also of Granite City; Mrs. Winnie Sasyk and C. R. Green of Madison; and Mrs. Margaret Lee and William E. Griggs of Venice.

Floats will be awarded in competition for judges. Maximum height for the parade floats is 14 feet, and float kit information is available from Coordinator Rich Chosich at 876-6497.

The committee is encouraging floats to display one of the three American Revolutionary Bicentennial themes:

Heritage 75—"Let Us Remember"—places, things or events of America's past. Festival USA—"Let Us Celebrate"—the richness of American culture in dance, music and the arts.

"Not a strip 100 feet wide," Sparks replied, "I've kept the holes in the roads patched. When you talk about taking the money we conserve and try to keep the taxes down, and you take our money and force us to raise the taxes, I'll vote against it. I'll say you are wasting it."

Estes replied, "I've kept the holes in the roads patched. When you talk about taking the money we conserve and try to keep the taxes down, and you take our money and force us to raise the taxes, I'll vote against it. I'll say you are wasting it."

Sparks charged, "If I had had the money you have had as highway commissioner these years, there would be money in the bank."

After Estes signed the affidavit, the board agreed to pay highway labor bills. Since the highway department funds were depleted, it was necessary for the board to transfer $600 from the township fund to the highway fund to meet the payroll.

The $600 was payment for the work the highway department did in digging and chipping a road to the township garage. It previously had been approved by the auditors.

Even with the transfer, Sparks said, highway accounts lack sufficient money to pay necessary municipal retirement and taxes on the nearly $1,900 payroll.

Sparks charged that Madison County Treasurer George Musso has agreed to release a partial payment of taxes to the Chouteau Township highway department this week, and that this could be used for that purpose. But he said he did not feel the board should appropriate funds not yet in its possession.

Despite the objection, town auditors approved the payroll.

March fire loss in GC at $26,865

Fire losses in Granite City during the month of March totaled $26,865, not including losses in industrial fires, Fire Chief Don Parents reported to the City Council Monday night.

Parents reported the fire department responded to a total of 65 fire alarms last month, including 23 calls to fire buildings and 10 calls to rubbish and weed fires.

There were nine calls to vehicle fires, two false alarms, six industrial fires and seven other alarms that included rescue calls.

Estimated loss to buildings was $11,900, while loss to contents in these fires totaled $12,435, Parents reported. Loss to motor vehicles amounted to $2,530.

summer, but it is not without its opponents.

Some contend children have to walk to school in the dark, others contend it hampers early morning working hours and some drive-in water owners say it harms their businesses, since films can not be shown until one hour later at night.

Still, most prefer the extra hour of evening light for recreational purposes and support theories it saves energy, reduces crime and helps avoid evening traffic accidents.

Mayor Paul Schuler said the council "should go along with this idea because any means of lowering the cost (of sewage treatment fees) to Granite City people should be considered."

Boyd said that preliminary discussion of plans to use Granite City treatment facilities indicated that "collection fees from outside use of our facilities could mean a reduction of 25 cents a month from the fee paid by local users."

This income from outside sources could be used to reduce fees paid locally, or to pay off outstanding treatment plant bonds at a faster pace, Boyd said.

Officials conducting discussions of the regional sewer program include Mayors Mike Sasyk of Madison and William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, and trustees of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District which operates the Lansdowne treatment plant.

A date for a meeting later this month to discuss further plans in the program is expected to be announced early next week.

"CASH" SAVINGS INVITES EVERYONE TO TRI-CITY'S 62nd BIRTHDAY!

Sixty-two years of progress... Back in 1914 when C. W. Pershall founded Tri-City Grocery Co. with one store in Granite City... people were singing the pop song "St. Louis Blues." "When You Were A Kid And I Was A Big Red Rose." "Twelfth Street Rag" and "Missouri Waltz." Henry Ford set a new standard for labor wages when he fixed a five-dollar minimum for an eight-hour day... U.S. citizens had to start paying income taxes... the Panama Canal was opened and World War One was started... So through two world wars and two major depressions, the Tri-City Grocery Company has carried on, progressing slowly and soundly, expanding only when the organization and facilities were able to handle the job capably. As we start our 62nd year, we sincerely thank our good friends and customers of the past three generations for the fine support you have given our stores.

Briarcliff plans celebration week

The Briarcliff Pentecostal Church at 1120 West Pontoon Road has announced plans for a "spiritual celebration week" in achieving their victories in breaking all records in attendance throughout Easter Services last weekend.

The church has a theme, "The Church with Acts 20:20 Vision" and will visualize this next Sunday when "hundreds of balloons" will be aired and sent up with a message inside. If anyone finds a message and takes it to the Church Sunday School on the following Sunday and is in attendance, he will receive a free Disney Queen bonus coupon book free.

Evangelist David Sizemore is now conducting revival services at Briarcliff through Sunday Evening. He will assist in the air lift of balloons.

Weekend performances of 'Zelda'

HURRICANE VERA AND WANDA have joined forces at Cape Hatteras and the next hurricane, Zeldia, could be the end of the world. Papa Alexander Hartman (Jim Fensterman) informs his grandson, David (Sammy Mendoza), in the comedy by Sylvia Regan to be performed Saturday night, Sunday afternoon and the following weekend at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 2052 Edison Ave. Tickets will be available at the door, from East Bank Players and by calling 877-8753 or 876-5963.

Pancake breakfast announced

Mrs. Ann Little, newly elected president of the Noon-Day Opti-Mrs. Club, conducted the first meeting of the club year on Monday at Charlie's Restaurant, preceded by a luncheon. Yearbooks for the season, listing committees, were distributed. Mrs. Little announced the Optimist Club will host a pancake breakfast from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Sunday at the Namekiki Recreation Center. Mrs. Mildred Branding gave the invocation and Mrs. Myra Parrish recited the club creed. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Branding, chairman, and Mesdames Pat Konzen, Tomoko Kirchoff, Mable Farrington and Lane Auderheide. Twenty-seven members attended and prizes presented during the social hour went to Mesdames Louise Anderson, Virginia John, Bobby Touch, Helen Meyer and Marge O'Neill.

When a family patriarch truly believes the season's next hurricane will end the world and he attempts to talk his family into boarding a "Noah's Ark" against their will, the results are a situation comedy such as "Zelda." Written by Sylvia Regan, "Zelda" will be presented this weekend and next by the East Bank Players at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 2052 Edison Ave. The public is invited to attend and tickets are available in advance from cast members, at Mendoza Sporting Goods, Knights of Columbus Hall, Carroll's Fashions in Downtown Granite City, or by calling Gene Cassidy, at 877-8753, or Mike Tharp, at 876-5963. Tickets are priced at $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for senior citizens and students. Performances will be given at 8:15 p.m. Saturday and 2:15 p.m. Sunday, and repeated at 8:15 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, April 30 and May 1. Segments of the play are set against a hurricane background and focuses on the Hartman family's dilemma when Papa Alexander Hartman announces "This world is not long for this world." The plot centers around his attempts to get family members onto a boat to protect them from anticipated floods and their resistance and efforts to force him back "to the world of reality." Principals in the cast are: Jim Fensterman as Alexander Hartman; Barb Modrusic as Rose Hartman; Bill Burch Jr. as Norman Hartman; Ann Scott as Steffi Hartman; Sammy Mendoza as David Hartman; Dave Johnson as Elliott Hartman; Cathy Cassy as Geraldine Hartman; Jerry Tracy as Jim Corey; Wallace McGlasson as Chris Corey and Jon Smith as Suzy Corey. Understudies for several roles who will perform at the Sunday matinee, include: Norma Mendoza as Chris Corey; Carol Bogosian as Geraldine Hartman; Eric Scott as David Hartman, and Dan McGee as Elliott Hartman. The East Bank Players, Inc. is a non-profit community theater group dedicated to the tradition of live theater.

"PAPA'S ACTING A LITTLE STRANGE," Mama Hartman (Barbara Modrusic), right, tells her son and daughter-in-law, Norman and Steffi Hartman (William Burch and Ann Scott), after Papa is seen constantly with a small radio glued to his ear listening for forecasts of doom and destruction from approaching Hurricane Zeldia. The play will be presented this weekend and next by the East Bank Players at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 2052 Edison Ave.

AMSTED sales substantial but reflect lower backlog of orders

AMSTED Industries reported Monday in Chicago that net income in the six months ended March 31 was $17,686,000, or $3.31 per share, down slightly from $17,771,000, or $3.33 per share, earned in the comparable period last year.

Earnings per share reflect the two-for-one stock split on Feb. 20, 1976. AMSTED's subsidiaries include the American Steel Foundries.

Sales in the six months ended March 31, 1976, amounted to $348,000,000, down $3,600,000, or one per cent, from the continuing operations sales a year ago.

Railroad product sales were down $11,300,000, or eight per cent. Sales of general industries products were up $5,800,000, or 10 per cent, and construction and building products were up $5,800,000, or 10 per cent, and construction and building products were up $1,900,000, or three per cent.

Joseph B. Lanterman, chairman, and Goff Smith, president, said, "The decrease in earnings resulting from reduced shipments of railroad products was largely offset by improved earnings in water pipe operations."

They also noted, "While metal scrap prices have increased in recent months, net income in the six months was favorably influenced by the substantial decline in the cost of scrap as compared to a year ago."

In the March quarter, sales were $127,000,000, up two per cent from the continuing operations sales of last year.

Net income of $8,665,000, or $1.62 per share, was down $336,000, or four per cent, equal to seven cents per share, from the March quarter of last year.

During the first six months of fiscal 1976, October 1975-March 1976, additions to property amounted to $9,700,000.

Present plans call for capital expenditures in fiscal 1976 and 1977 to total $65,000,000, excluding acquisitions.

Accounts receivable at March 31 were down both from a year ago and the beginning of the year, reflecting continued good control, the officers said.

Inventories have been reduced significantly from last year, the largest decreases being at the water pipe and metal coating operations.

AMSTED had no debt at the end of the current quarter or at the end of the comparable period of the prior year.

AMSTED's unfilled orders at March 31 amounted to $157,000,000, compared to $151,000,000 a year earlier and $211,000,000 at Sept. 30, 1975.

Orders for freight car components are down considerably from a year ago, but continue to represent the single largest element of the backlog.

The backlog of general industrial products is down significantly from last year but only slightly below the level at the end of the last quarter.

Construction and building products represent the smallest portion of the backlog and, although down from the amount a year ago, this backlog is about equal to the orders on hand at the end of the December quarter.

Lanterman and Smith said that, based on current estimates, "the improvement which is occurring in the manufacturing economy is expected to result in a continuing increase in sales of general industrial products."

"Construction and building product shipments should be up from last year due to a higher level of housing starts."

"The railroad product line will experience a lower level of business in the last half of fiscal 1976. Based on our current estimate, between 55,000 and 60,000 new freight cars will be built during the year, compared to about 70,000 in 1975."

The AMSTED executives noted that, in the aggregate, it is expected that net income in fiscal 1976 will be slightly below last year's record high but substantially above any other prior year.

BICENTENNIAL STATE POLICE CARS. Red, white and blue Illinois State police cars specially marked for the 1776-1976 Bicentennial year are now seen on Illinois Highways. One of the new white cars with the red and blue accent stripes will be on display Saturday, May 1, at the Louis Baer School in Madison between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. at the annual school carnival held by the Mother's club. The display has been arranged by Police Explorer Post 10-4. Members of the post will register bicycles and issue city bike licenses at the carnival.

Madison school site purchased

The Madison Board of Education at a meeting Tuesday night approved a resolution authorizing the purchase of 12.27 acres of land in the Stephen Maeras Industrial Park, owned by the City of Madison, for $122,700. A new middle school is scheduled to be built on the site.

The purchase is contingent upon approval of the terms of the sale by the Illinois Capital Development Board (CDB), Superintendent of Schools John Palchett said, "We will attempt to gain CDB approval this week and hopefully construction will start sometime in August. We are scheduled to be in the new school by September 1977."

A proposal to build a new middle school in Madison and to issue $800,000 in general obligation bonds to finance the Madison School District's share of the cost was approved by district voters in a special referendum Saturday, Sept. 27, 1975.

The Illinois CDB will provide

$1,769,925 of the school construction cost.

The school will accommodate 650 pupils, including two special education classes, according to Palchett.

As soon as the board signed the necessary legal papers, William Kinder, school board attorney, took them to the Madison City hall where the city council was meeting.

Upon Kinder's arrival, the Madison City Council approved two resolutions.

The first declared the 12.27 acres of real estate as excess and no longer needed for development as part of the Stephen Maeras Industrial Park. The second resolution authorized the sale of the property to the school district.

Bicentennial dance concert

The department of theater and dance at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, in conjunction with BHAM (Bicentennial Horizons of American Music), will present Dance in Concert tonight, tomorrow and Saturday in the Communications Building theater at 8:15.

The joint effort by SIUE faculty members and students will feature part of a more expansive production to be performed by the group in the first of a series of Bicentennial Programs Under the Arch June 28.

Under the direction of Al Wiltz III, director of dance at SIUE, dancers will perform to Stravinsky's Les Noces, William Russo's Blues Piece and two works by Gassman-Tautal and Tropical Delights.

Dance in Concert combines the efforts and talent of Wiltz; Gayle Kassing, dance instructor at SIUE; Alexandre Plomonte, a graduate student at SIUE; and Anna Nassisi, choreographer-in-residence at the University of Wisconsin.

Musical and vocal accompaniments, featuring the St. Louis Symphony and the Ronald Arant Concert Chorus, were pre-recorded on tape for the SIUE performance.

Admission prices for the performances on the university campus will be $2 for adults and 50 cents for children; SIUE students will be admitted free.

'Sunset Song' to be telecast

"Sunset Song," a dramatic rendering of a girl's maturation into full womanhood in the harsh environment of a small Scottish community, can be seen on "Masterpiece Theatre" at 8 p.m. Sundays and 8 p.m. Fridays on KETC-TV, Channel 9, beginning April 25 and 30.

"Sunset Song" is based on a novel by Lewis Grassie Gibbon. The six-part series follows the evolution of a 16-year-old girl who, after her mother's death, is forced to abandon learning and ambition to take over the running of a farm household.

Also appearing are Edith MacArthur, who plays the girl's mother, Andrew Keir as her dour father and Paul Young as her rebellious brother. The original BBC telecast was commended for its realistic setting. Much of the series was filmed on location in the Scottish hills.

Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break but all in vain
To have, to love, and then to part

Wide range in bids to raze downtown building

Four bids to demolish the two-story, brick building on the southwest corner of Nineteenth Street and Delmar Avenue were received by the Granite City Council Monday night, ranging in cost from $5,474 to a high of $11,900.

The bids were referred to the City Buildings committee for study to determine if the work offers comply with specifications. The committee is expected to make a recommendation for a contract award in the next meeting Monday night.

Low bid of $5,474 was submitted by the Wilbur Waggoner Excavating Co. of Madison, while the high bid of $11,900 was submitted by the Kamadski Excavating Co. of Granite City.

Other bids were by G. H. Sternberg Co. at $9,393, and C. D. Peters Contracting Co. at $10,445.

The building formerly housed the Factory Outlet Clothing store and was damaged by a fire that destroyed the Dorian Bridal Shop next door on Aug.

13, 1975.

The property has been deeded by the owners to Granite City. An offer to give the adjoining property to the city also has been made, but has not yet been accepted by the council pending settlement of some outstanding obligations by the company.

City street department workers recently razed the Dorian Bridal Shop building under a contract with the owners.

City Council members Monday night awarded a contract to American Dynamid Co. of Wayne, N.J., to furnish the city with grouting materials used in sealing underground sewer lines in connection with the city's televising and grouting operations.

The firm was the lowest of two bidders offering grouting sealing compounds and other sealing materials to the city.

The bids were received by the city two weeks ago but were referred to the council's Street and Alley committee for study.

Alderman Clyde Boyd, chairman of the street and alley committee, said the American Dynamid firm had not included freight charges in its original bid, but after the delivery cost was added, the bid by the firm still was the lowest of two. The other bid was made by Cues, Inc., of Orlando, Fla.

American Dynamid bid $1.08 per pound for AM-9 sealing compound with 20,000 pounds to be purchased; 65 cents per pound for AP sealer and $1.15 per pound for DM-APN compound.

The Cues firm bid $1.18 per pound for Q-Seal compound, 60 cents per pound for Q-Seal ammonium persulfate, and $57 per five-gallon can of Q-Seal-D compound.

A single bid by Curry-Lenhardt, certified public accountants of St. Louis, to furnish audit city accounts was received. Finance Committee Chairman Ronald Coleman told the council. On a motion by Coleman, the council referred the bid to the Finance Committee for further study and a recommendation.

A bid call for materials and supplies for the city's street maintenance program was authorized on a motion by Boyd after the council received in Monday night's meeting a letter from state highway engineers noting that the Department of Transportation has approved a city appropriation of $164,451 in motor fuel taxes for the maintenance work.

GC School District offers new job placement service

A job placement office has been established for the benefit of the students at the Granite City High Schools. The placement service will include part-time job listing for these students still in school, as well as full-time work opportunities for seniors and graduates of both schools. B. J. Davis, Granite City superintendent of schools, reported Roy McConkey, career and vocational placement counselor, has been visiting local prospective employers about job openings. Currently, he is preparing to contact metropolitan St. Louis and other area employers and personnel managers about the new service being offered at the Granite City High Schools.

McConkey said a series of lunch-study meetings will be held for students of each class to present information on the status of the current labor market and attitudes and skills of the job seeker. Other topics will deal with local sources of jobs, application and job interview, and how to be a success the first day.

These group guidance sessions will assist the student in developing a placement file and should help interested students, become "employable." Students may contact McConkey at any time for job information and help. Parents and community residents are welcome to visit or call the office to learn about the services provided.

Local businesses and industry having job openings now or who will have job openings in June especially are asked to contact the placement service at Granite City High School South, 3101 Madison Ave., or call 877-1512, station 68.

Professionals now run driver clinics

For the first time, the Illinois secretary of state's office is now administering driver improvement clinics with professional educators, using professionally-prepared curricula, Secretary Michael J. Howlett said today.

Secretary Howlett spoke at a convention luncheon of the Illinois High School and College Driver Education Association at Springfield. Delegates represented about 2,600 driver education teachers of the public schools.

"Our office shares with you a heavy responsibility for safe driving in Illinois," said Howlett. "It is up to you, as to our office, to be sure drivers understand the rules of the road and abide by them."

"Traffic accidents went down in 1974 when the 55-mile speed limit and higher gasoline costs reduced the speed and the number of cars on the road."

"But fatalities rose again, from 2,007 in 1974 to 2,084 in 1975."

"They are rising again this year—six per cent in the first three months of 1976 from the comparable 1975 period."

"Our experience has found that we don't make better drivers just by taking their license away when they make mistakes."

"We want to remedy their faults, modify their behavior and help them drive safely."

"To help accomplish this, using federal funds, we contracted with highway safety specialists to develop professional driver improvement courses for problem drivers."

"When we contracted with 17 professional educators to conduct the two-hour clinics in 28 central locations throughout Illinois."

"The educators have a behavioral science background. They teach respect and responsibility as well as road rules and driving skills," Howlett said.

"They live within the community they serve. They are either high school driver education instructors, or college level instructors in highway safety or an associated area."

"Drunken drivers, hit-and-run drivers, habitual offenders—drivers who must be kept off the road—are not enrolled in the clinics."

"The clinics are for minor offenders who have just received their first license suspension."

"The driver agrees to attend in exchange for a probationary license, covering the period for which his driving privilege otherwise would be suspended.

"Any further conviction would cancel the probationary license."

"Since mid-February, about 1,600 have attended the clinics during evening hours."

"We have had driver improvement clinics since 1969, but not with the professional courses and instructors we have now."

"Reaction to the new clinics has been overwhelmingly favorable. We have increased the quality of instruction and the probability of better driving."

"Illinois is a safer place to drive than most other states. The latest figure is 34 fatalities per billion miles traveled in 1975. The national figure was 36."

"When we began taking this measurement in 1920, there were 210 fatalities in Illinois per billion miles traveled. Better engineering, better law enforcement and better driver education have made it possible to go faster, more comfortably and more safely."

"But this is no time for complacency. Statistics are no consolation to the families of the traffic victims."

"Nearly 600,000 passenger cars—almost one of every 10 on the road—were involved in property damage accidents last year that cost at least $100."

"We can make safer highways, safer cars, but the most important element is the safer driver. We must teach courtesy and respect—social responsibility—as well as driving skills and the rules of the road."

DAVID HETH INITIATED BY BETA GAMMA SIGMA

Seventy-nine students in the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign have been elected to membership in the Alpha Chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, the highest scholastic honor that a student of commerce can attain. Among them is David A. Heth, 2324 Benton St., a junior. Beta Gamma Sigma was founded on the campuses of the universities of Illinois, Wisconsin and California in the spring of 1913.

Since 1919, it has been the official honor society of colleges in the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business, and today there are 157 chapters and more than 90,000 members. Thirty juniors and 49 seniors in the UIUC College of Commerce were initiated into the Alpha Chapter Monday night.

Emerson relies on news rather than books as main teaching tool

(Publishers' Auxiliary)

When Alfred J. Wilson, principal of Emerson School, hands you his business card, the first thing you notice is the quote at the top: "Today's news shapes tomorrow."

To say Wilson is a believer in newspapers would be an understatement.

Wilson believes in newspapers to the point of convincing his school board that the newspaper should be used in the classroom, not as a supplemental tool, but as the primary teaching tool.

Wilson likes to talk about his revolutionary program. He'll buttonhole you at conventions. He's outlined the program to the Associated Press, Newsweek and other national publications which have expressed an interest.

And as if that weren't enough, each summer Wilson packs his family into a 31-foot travel van and criss-crosses the country addressing workshops about his "teaching by convenience" method.

"Teaching by convenience" doesn't mean that a structured curriculum gets thrown out the window, Wilson explained to Publishers' Auxiliary.

A curriculum guide is used, but it's flexible enough to be applied to whatever is topical at the moment.

It means when a teacher is teaching through the day's copy of the Globe-Democrat, to which each of the school's 306 pupils has a subscription at a special rate, the news of the day is used as the teaching program.

For instance, a newspaper recently ran a notice of ad insertions rates, so many days for so many lines at "x" amount. That night's assignment for four primary classes was to determine how much they would pay for a certain amount space.

An ad for Delta Air Lines which gave rates for various cities was applied in a math lesson. "The kids started to relate to it," Wilson said.

"One mentioned that he had been to Annapolis and another said he wanted to visit Washington."

"It's like an upward spiral. They can relate to those things because they're real."

Wilson said the program works at his school (which runs from kindergarten through sixth grade) because the teachers have the "ingenuity and flexibility" to work without a strict curriculum outline.

"They know the goals they want to accomplish in the school year," said Wilson.

"They take the newspaper and teach those concepts. We break up the sequential order of the way we present things. When you're in the newspaper, we capitalize on it."

One teacher who was skeptical at first was Anita Effimoff. She teaches children with learning disabilities, many of whom have difficulties with their eye-hand coordination.

She uses features such as one where they have to look up numbers to discover their horoscope as one exercise to develop more coordination.

"It's something they're interested in and it makes all the difference in the world," said Mrs. Effimoff, who is now sold on the program.

Mary Kennan teaches Emerson's class of educable mentally handicapped students and she is also sold on the program.

"Wednesday is a favorite day here because of food sections," she explained. "The kids practice arithmetic by figuring out how much it would cost to provide a well-balanced meal, cut out pictures to show what they like to eat best, and use the fractions in recipes for arithmetic."

Fourth grade students were inspired by an airlines advertisement, used as an introduction to lesson on California, to determine how big a redwood tree is.

Finally, through some thoughtful figuring, they held hands to form a circle as well as the tree.

"They ended up using arithmetic, logic and geography," said teacher Connie Staffer.

"The newspapers led a spontaneous visit to the classroom which textbooks can't match."

Sixth graders use a weather map as part of their geography lesson and fifth graders learn complex division from stock pages. Music students were inspired to write a song "Old Man River" by stories of floods, in the kindergarten class, youngsters cover antlers.

"Morris the Moose" with examples of the "me" sound they find in newspapers.

Wilson began using newspapers when he was a sixth grade teacher in 1962.

He saw the newspaper as a means of injecting some life into a curriculum that had grown staid.

He convinced his principal to let him use it as the main text,

"I became more interesting, and the kids became more interested," he said.

Test scores during that initial year showed that 23 students who were in the group which used newspapers as their main text finished the year reading at a level of sixth grade, nine months, while 23 students in a control group which didn't use newspapers finished the year at a sixth grade, five months reading capacity.

The idea behind the program, according to Wilson, is that every subject traditionally taught from a textbook can be learned from a newspaper.

Each day he prepares a list of about 20 questions which are given to each student.

Teachers guide their students on the ones which pertain to their grade level or subject under study.

An ad for an import shop leads to the question: "Can you identify the 13 countries represented by the flags?"

Or, the Indianapolis 500 time trials inspire the challenge: "How many seconds does it take to go one lap at 192.8 mph at Indy?"

Emerson School is one of many St. Louis area schools which participate.

Bonnie Kuper is the educational consultant for the newspaper. She said that while Emerson uses the program most extensively, there are other schools which use it just as effectively.

She patly, on a monthly newsletter in which participants can exchange information and ideas.

One of the booklets is "How to use the newspaper in the school curriculum." The section on "the newspaper as a teaching tool," was written by Wilson.

The experience of one Emerson student points up how the immediacy of a newspaper pays off in learning dividends.

A second grader with a reading problem, he refused to learn to read and nothing interested him — except horse racing.

Like boys who accompany their fathers to baseball games, he went to the race track with his dad almost every weekend.

A teacher realized that if the boy could learn to read the names of horses on the sports pages, he could read anything. The boy used his horse racing interest to learn to read.

New test to eliminate some cancer surgery

The new laboratory for the study of recurrent breast cancer, established at The Jewish Hospital of St. Louis, is a result of a donation from United Order True Sisters, Inc., Cancer Service, Miriam No. 17. The organization presented the hospital with a $17,000 ultracentrifuge device needed to set up the lab.

The breast carcinoma laboratory provides a test that determines whether removal of endocrine glands will benefit a patient with recurrent breast cancer.

If the test—an estrogen-receptor protein analysis—shows that the carcinoma is estrogen-based, surgical removal of the endocrine glands, particularly the ovaries, could aid in arresting the progress of the disease by upsetting the tumor's hormonal environment, said Dr. John S. Meyer, associate pathologist at Jewish Hospital and director of the laboratory.

The test is not now available in any other hospital clinical laboratory in the St. Louis area.

The ultracentrifuge was vital to the inception of the laboratory, Dr. Meyer added.

Rotating faster than a regular centrifuge, the ultracentrifuge separates estrogen-receptor proteins from the remainder of the tissue preparation, enabling more accurate analysis and treatment.

"Treatment for recurrent breast cancer is becoming more and more successful," said Dr. Meyer. "And one of the most successful therapies involves using hormones and by removing certain glands in the body."

"We know that roughly one in every three younger women with advanced breast carcinoma will respond to removal of the ovaries and adrenal glands."

This type of therapy works only in women whose carcinoma is estrogen-dependent.

"The procedure is of special interest, inasmuch as it not only is a step forward in the diagnosis of breast cancer," said David A. Gee, hospital president, but has the benefit of being able to obviate unnecessary surgery, thereby making more hospital beds available to patients.

Cancer service is the national project of United Order True Sisters. There are 65 lodges throughout the United States.

During the current fiscal year, UOITS has provided a grant for cancer immunology studies to be administered by

Bicycle race, high kick in first state track tournament

The first track meet of the Illinois Interscholastic Athletic Association took place in 1885. Following is an 1885 article from the Peoria student newspaper:

On Saturday, May 20, 1885, the long looked for and much talked of Interscholastic Meet occurred at Champaign, Ill. And we won it.

Our team, accompanied by a large delegation, arrived in Champaign on Friday morning, May 19. The boys were immediately taken in charge by the varsity men and Prof. Hall, and assigned to different members of the university.

To say that they were all comely treated would be putting it mildly indeed. The afternoon was spent in looking at the grounds, the varsity buildings and the cities. Then in the evening, a meeting of the contestants and delegates was held in Adelphi Hall. Here Mr. Arms of the university made a short opening speech.

He was followed by Prof. Hall, who gave full instructions to the contestants about being on the track on time, after this, tickets of admission and programmes were handed about to the contestants. Then a meeting of the delegates was held and it was here decided to give the presidency of the league to the winning high school.

Saturday morning dawned bright and fair and all the contestants and officials were on the ground in good season, for the first event was to begin promptly at 9 o'clock. It was the first heat in the 50 yards dash; four starters toed the mark.

At the report of the pistol, they got away in good shape. After a few strides had been taken, Herbert Jamison, of our school, shot ahead and landed the heat with ease.

This seemed to set the Peoria boys crazy. Sweater clad contestants, awaiting their turns, were seen to dance about and hug each other in their delight, while in the grandstand the Peoria delegation made the air shake with the familiar "Ricky, Ricky."

Just at this stage of the proceedings, a tally-ho bedecked with maroon and black, and bearing 14 of Peoria's fairest, accompanied by Prof. White, arrived on the field. This was a signal for renewed cheering.

The second trial heat in the 50 yards was won by Wood, of Springfield.

The third heat was a walkover by Brown, of Lake View, and the fourth was won by C. D. Comstock, of Neoga.

Then, everyone held his breath as the four "hucky" men lined up for the final heat. At the crack of Starter Dill's pistol, they are off like arrows. The issue is at no time in doubt, Herbert Jamison goes rapidly to the front and lands this event in the very fast time of 5 1/2 seconds. Again there is a roar from the grandstand and the ripples of maroon and black swell into fluttering waves, as the Peoria delegation rose as one man to do homage to the victor.

While all this excitement was going on, Gus Rousseau was quietly getting a corner on five points, over in the jumping ground. And when "Hot Rooster" emerged with first place in the standing broad jump to his credit, having cleared nine feet 10 inches, there were some more Peoria yells. Plenty of enthusiasm left yet.

The next track event was the half mile run. Over this event let us draw our attention to Bell of Lake View, who won in the first time of 2:16. Bable was running third, but fell fainting as he neared the finish.

This merely serves to emphasize the fact that a long run takes careful and diligent training. And training and that which is directly opposite to training cannot be indulged in at the same time.

The next event was the ball throw and, greatly to every one's surprise, Hotchkiss was only able to score second. The winner was Buggles, of Lake View, a fine thrower.

This event was followed by the trial heats of the 100 yards dash. The winners were: 1st heat, Herbert Jamison of Peoria; 2nd heat, C. D. Comstock of Neoga; 3rd heat, Bell of Urbana; and 4th heat, Brown, Chicago.

The final heat in the 100 yards was easily won by Herbert Jamison, in the most remarkable time of 10 2/5 seconds.

Ralph Field was busily employed in the meantime in corralling some more points in the jumping ground. "Parson" scooped the running broad jump with the remarkable jump of 30 feet 1/2 inch. More Peoria ovations.

The next event to be contested on the track was the quarter mile run. Although sick, Dougherty ran, nearly obtaining third place. In good shape, he undoubtedly would have won. This event was won by Marshall Hall of Farmer City.

The football kick was won by Frank Bogardus of Springfield. Woodward had an off-day.

In the one mile bicycle race, Gashon of Lake View, set a terrific pace almost the whole distance. But when he neared the finish, "Old Ironsides" A. Jamison spurred ahead and won by fifty yards. The time was good, being 2:49 1/2.

A look over into the jumping ground showed the "Parson" at it again, in the high jump. It was finally won by Forrest Lowes, Geneseo, with five feet, one inch, Ralph Field half an inch behind.

The mile run was made in the slow time of 5:41 1/2, and was won by Bell of Lake View, Luthy, Peoria, was third, Had Godfrey set a hotter pace he would have had a better place, but it was a grand loaf until the finish and then Bell sprang.

Again let us look over where the turf is dug up. Clarence Hersenberger is vaulting, and vaulting well. The little junior has no difficulty in winning this interesting event with eight feet eight inches.

The high kick was next. This event was won by Morrison of Urbana with eight feet six inches. Hotchkiss was close behind.

The hop, step and jump was won by Forrest Lowes of Geneseo, who made the phenomenal record of 43 feet one inch.

The shot put was captured by Robert Bourland of Peoria with 39 feet nine inches.

As a fitting close to the day, Herbert Jamison again appeared and won the 220 yards dash in the exceedingly fast time of 2:34 seconds.

Then Peoria enthusiasm boiled up and overflowed, and with a mad rush, the boys grabbed Jamison. Lifting him aloft upon their shoulders, they bore him in triumph from the field.

Everybody that went to Champaign from Peoria said that they received the best and kindest treatment, and that they want to go again. The hospitality of the people of Champaign will never be forgotten by the P.H.S.

Then returning victors were met at the depot by a large and hilarious crowd of P.H.S. boys and others.

"Deacon" Allen headed the procession with his big bass drum. Following him was the late lamented Captain Hutchinson of Annex football fame, accompanied by several others with snare drums. Charley Thompson, Ernest Schoen and other notables of bygone days were also there.

The procession, with the pennant at the head, moved up town from the depot and disbanded at the corner of Main and Madison streets. Herbert Jamison was carried part of the way on the shoulders of the boys.

It was a grand ovation, and everyone's heart tingled with pride as the old and familiar yell, shouted by scores of lusty lads, rent the air.

New girl track, field superstars on horizon

Superstars Kim Schofield and Trudi Rebsamen are gone, but a new group of standouts is waiting in the wings to take the spotlight when competitors from a record 589 downstate, suburban and Chicago schools (not in the Public League) begin the fourth annual Illinois High School Association girls' state track and field meet series at the district level the weekend of May 14-15 at 21 sites.

GCHS South and North and Madison will compete at Belleville West May 15. With the addition of a new relay event — the 880-yard medley relay — and the expected return of seven of last year's record-setters and/or event champions, the 1976 state final meet the weekend of May 21-22 on the blazing Tarian track of O'Brien Field on the campus of Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, could be the best ever.

A year ago, Miss Schofield and Miss Rebsamen competed for the last time and bowed out with peak performances. Miss Schofield won the 100 and long jump for the third straight time in three years. Miss Rebsamen won the 400 for the third time with a record 56.2 performance.

Heading the list of returnees are hurdler Chris Russell of Lansing (T. F. South) and distance ace Melody Miller of Park Ridge (Maine East).

Miss Russell won both the 80 and 110-yard low hurdle events, claiming state records in both, and bettering the national mark in the longer event.

Miss Miller, who also ranked as one of the top girl gymnasts in the state this winter, holds the state 10-mile record and should also be a contender in the mile, where she pushed Betsy Oberle of Peoria (Academy-Spaulding) to a state record time of 5:04.3 in finishing second last spring. Miss Oberle also returns.

In addition, shot putter Mary Ann Johnson of Hoffman Estates (Conant), the state record holder, should be back, along with discus record-holder Sue Fortune of Geneseo (Dunnell), high jump record holder Mary Crago of Rochester and sprinter Rebecca Conda of Chicago (Dunbar), who is the 220 record holder.

Six of the 21 districts will be conducted Friday night, May 14. They are to be hosted by (with the number of schools assigned): Carthage (Hancock Central) (27), Freeport (H.S.) (27), Galesburg (27), Mt. Vernon (27), Olney (East Richland) (27), and Sycamore (30).

The remaining 15 districts will be conducted Saturday afternoon, May 15. They are to be hosted by: Aledo (26), Belleville (West) (36), Canton (32), Country Club Hills (Hillcrest) (27), Freeport (H.S.) (27), Hoffman Estates (Conant) (28), Mt. Olive (27), Mt. Prospect (Prospect) (28), Normal Community (28), Oak Lawn (Richards) (28), Oswego (28), Rossville (R-Alvin) (27), Rushville (27), St. Joseph (Glenview) (27), Sterling (H.S.) (27) and Wheeling (29).

Three years ago, when the IHSA inaugurated its girls' track and field meet series, 252 schools entered the statewide series in 1974, that number was up to 463. A year ago, the total hit 598 — including the 57 Chicago Public League schools. This year's total of all schools sending athletes to the first level of competition is 646.

Most of the events will be contested at each district site. While the medley relay has been added, so, too, has the 50-yard dash been eliminated.

The winner and runnerup in each event (except the medley relay where only two advance from the districts) earn automatic berths in the state meet. Really 2 p.m.

In addition, those individuals or relays which finish third, fourth or fifth and equal or surpass the minimum qualifying standard also advance to Charleston.

Joining the district qualifiers will be the top four finishers in each event in the Chicago Public League qualifying meet, and any fifth-place finisher equaling or surpassing the qualifying standard (except in the medley relay where only four advance).

Preliminaries in both track and field events at the fourth state final meet will get under way at 9 a.m. Friday, May 21. An opening ceremony will start activities Saturday, May 22, at 11:30 a.m. Finals in the discus and high jump will start at noon, and finals in the remaining field events and the first running event will start at 12:30 p.m.

Qualifying standards for this year by event are: 100-yard dash :14.4; 200-yard dash :28.3; 400-yard dash :59.0; 800-yard run 2:25.0; mile run 5:25.0; two-mile run 11:47.0; 3000-yard run 11:18.0; 100-yard low hurdles :15.0; high jump 5.1; shot put 37.5; long jump 17.7; discus 107.9; 400-yard relay :50.3; 800-yard relay 1:46.2; mile relay 4:16.0 and 800-yard medley relay, top two in each event.

Oak Park-River Forest stormed to the team title last spring and the Huskies are favored on paper again this year.

Challengers include Cahokia, Lansing (T. F. South), Chicago (Calumet), Park Ridge (Maine East), Illinois and New Lenox (Lincoln-Way).

Tickets for each session of the state meet will go on sale each day of the meet. Session tickets will be $2 each. No season tickets will be sold.

ARTISTIC MURAL entitled "The Hunt" has been painted on a living room wall of his home by Anthony Doneff, 803 Grand Ave., a house painter. Doneff, who has been painting art for 55 years, said he has been doing so since he was 7 years old. He served as a painting instructor for the Works Projects Administration in 1938 and once placed third at an Illinois State Fair competition with a self portrait. Doneff said this painting took him about a month to complete. A resident of Madison 58 years, he said he finds that murals of this type are not much in demand.

14 state police cars marked for Bicentennial observance

Captain Albert J. Bertagnoli, District 11 State Police Commander at Maryville has announced that State Police have placed specially marked patrol cars into service in connection with the 1776 - 1976 Bicentennial Year. The cars are white and trimmed with red and blue striping.

In an attempt to bring a higher level of visibility to their patrol vehicles in traffic, the State Police are changing the base color of their vehicles from beige to white with dark accent stripes. Captain Bertagnoli commented that with the change in base color to white, it was possible to create the red, white and blue patriotic design without additional cost.

Fourteen specially marked patrol vehicles are being assigned to various State Police Districts in Illinois. They will be used by different troopers in the patrol operation and are available on request basis throughout 1976 for any activities in connection with the Bicentennial celebration.

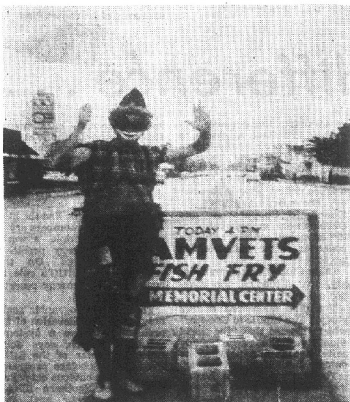

The Bicentennial car assigned to District 11, which includes the counties of Bond, Clinton, Greene, Jersey, Macoupin, Madison, Monroe, Montgomery and St. Clair, is available to organizations within the District by contacting Captain Albert J. Bertagnoli, District 11 Commander, Maryville.

Correspondence courses offered during summer

Students planning to use the summer vacation for correspondence study are being urged to enroll early, according to Paul H. Tippy, director of Correspondence Courses, Continuing Education and Public Service, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Students and residents of the immediate Champaign-Urbana area may enroll at any time 8 a.m. to 12 noon, and 1 to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays in the Correspondence Courses Office, 194 Illinois Hall, Champaign. Others are to inquire by mail. Summer is a period of heavy correspondence enrollment by students who attend colleges and universities during the regular academic year. They take advantage of the summer vacation to make up deficiencies or take extra courses, Tippy relates.

In order to complete a course during the summer, a student must plan his program carefully, allowing enough time for (a) his earlier records to be checked; (b) materials to be shipped; (c) a work schedule to be set up permitting him to meet all requirements of the course; (d) arranging and taking the final examination; and (e) completion records to be cleared.

A student who waits until mid-June or the first of July to register will have little chance of completing his course for a September deadline, Tippy comments. It is imperative that each student have on file all essential data for registration at the Correspondence Office by late spring, so that registration may be completed and lessons forwarded as soon as possible during the early summer.

"Students should bear in mind that lessons and examination returns will be slower during August, as this may be the only opportunity for the instructional staff to take vacations," he reports.

"Students can help make the enrollment process quicker and easier by carefully studying the procedures outlined in the Correspondence Catalog. The student who attempts shortcuts—such as sending the application and/or money to offices other than the specified—only delays his registration. Basic steps toward speedy and successful enrollment are:

(1) "Any prospective student—regardless of whether he has been enrolled in a U. of I. correspondence course at some other time—must complete and present the formal application to the Correspondence Courses Office. The application forms are not merely sources of information; they are also used as worksheets to process enrollments.

(2) "All students who were

Local trail entrance dedication Saturday

Five Granite City garden clubs will present and dedicate the sign and landscaping work at the local entrance to the Madison County Bicycle and Nature Trail at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The dedicatory ceremony will take place at the Lake Drive entrance to the trail, between Pontoon Road and Route 162.

Clubs whose efforts over an 18-month period resulted in the sign and landscape work include the Gardenaires, Cloverview, Garden Study, Thorgate and Terrace garden clubs.

Mrs. Charles Kohl, Steering committee chairman for the Bicentennial Year project, will make the presentation to Nelson Hagnauer, Madison County Board chairman, and Louis Whitsell, chairman of the Madison County Parks and Recreation Committee.

Boy Scout troops 5, 13 and 11, led by J. Patrick Busch, Marvin Wiedner and William Downs, respectively, will present the colors. Members of the Fair Oaks Junior Garden Club will recite the pledge of allegiance.

Welcoming remarks will be offered by Mrs. Fred Orr, project secretary, and Mrs. Thomas King, committee chairman, will give a history of the nature trail.

Charles Svoboda Jr., Bicentennial chairman for the Uniwah District, Boy Scouts of America, will describe hopes for the trail's future development and use.

The Rev. William Fester, pastor of Namecki United Methodist Church, will give the invocation and benediction. The public is invited to attend the dedication ceremony, Mrs. Kohl said.

Reject new delay in Ricco's II hearing

A hearing by the Illinois State Liquor Control Commission of an appeal of the liquor license revocation at Ricco's II lounge will be held May 3 despite a request for another postponement, Mayor Paul Schuler said he was informed Monday afternoon.

Assurance that the hearing will be held was made, Mayor Schuler said, when he telephoned Thomas Murphy, executive director of the commission, to protest any further continuance of the revocation appeal hearing.

Schuler said Murphy told him that if the city was opposed to another continuance, the hearing would be held as scheduled, particularly since witnesses will be required to appear in Springfield.

At the time a local hearing was held on the mayor's move to revoke the license, it was agreed between attorneys for the city and representing Ricco's II that any appeal of the decision would be based entirely on the record.

Mayor Schuler revoked the license Dec. 23 following a lengthy hearing on a fatal shooting and a stabbing on the parking lot near Ricco's II on Dec. 8.

A hearing was scheduled in February, but it was postponed at the request of Anthony "Tony" Augustine, license holder, because of illness. The hearing was reset for May 3.

Schuler said that before he called Murphy Monday, he learned that a request for a continuance from the May 3 date was to be made, also on the basis of illness.

Lodge 222 of the Croatian Fraternal Union of America will salute the Bicentennial year with a dance Saturday from 5 p.m. until 9 p.m. at the Croatian Home, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison.

Music for dancing will be by Becari Tamburitzaans of St. Louis.

Lodge 222 was chartered Jan. 12, 1903, by 29 immigrant men who saw the need for a fraternal lodge where they could meet and discuss the opportunities that their new country had to offer.

The lodge has grown from 29 to a current membership of 450 members, plus 120 junior members.

The lodge sponsors bowling teams for adults, in addition to softball and football teams for children; plus the Happy Strings and Slavic Serenaders Tamburitzaan music groups.

"I want to extend an invitation to the general public to attend Saturday as I am sure everyone will enjoy themselves and the fine food," President Gudac said.

Nearly New Clothing Center relocates

The Nearly New Clothing Center of Church Women United (CWU) is now operating from its new quarters at 1412 Niedringhaus Ave.

The continued growth of the center, coupled with a lack of space in its former facility at the Venice Homes, necessitated the relocation, CWU officers reported.

In operation since 1967, the service was originally designed to aid school age children who were in need of wearable, attractive clothing to function more comfortably in the school setting.

Now, with the enlarged quarters, the service is being extended to all age groups.

According to Mrs. Vanetta Leimkuhler, project chairman, the shoeless mother who accompanies her children to the center to select clothing also is in need of assistance.

Mrs. Joyce Schrader, who developed the center and was its first director, realized the serious need in the community for such a facility. She worked diligently to establish the center and continued to direct its operation, except for one year, until the summer of 1975.

During 1970-71 when Mrs. Schrader served as president of Church Women United, her duties at the center were assumed by co-chairmen Mrs. Virginia Daniels and Mrs. Lucille Webb.

Currently, Mrs. Leimkuhler is assisted in operating the center by Mrs. Marge Noth, Mrs. Lee Reilly, Mrs. Virginia Kessler, Mrs. Marcella Rowold, Mrs. Wanda Lohman and Mrs. Georgia Simpson.

Each woman volunteers one or more days a week to perform the various tasks necessary to maintain an attractive and well-organized clothing facility.

Their service includes sorting, washing, ironing, mending and sizing. Only after these chores are completed is the clothing made available for selection.

Clients are helped by appointment only, after a need has been determined and proper referral's made.

Coordinated Youth Services, Salvation Army, Protestant Welfare, Catholic Charities and school counselors are among the agencies and individuals who work closely with the center personnel.

The service is sustained by donations of clothing and funds from churches and individuals, with total volunteer hours averaging 30-40 hours each week.

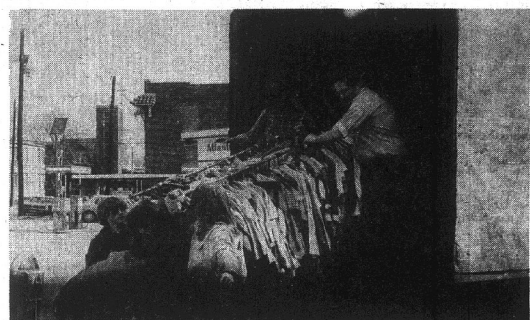

Use of the new location has been granted to Church Women United rent free by the building owner, a Downtown Granite City businessman.

Because of the nature of its operation, funds are not available for the group to pay rent on a facility. Without its present benefactor, the center's services would not be available to the community, CWU officers explained.

Last year, the clothing needs of 589 clients from 202 families were met by the center.

David Wilson of S. M. Wilson and Co. provided a truck for moving the clothing to the new location. He was assisted in the move by several Explorers from an area scouting unit.

Both clothing and cash donations to the Nearly New Clothing Center are tax deductible, the organization's spokesman advised prospective donors.

MOVING DAY for the Nearly New Clothing Center, operated by Church Women United of the Quad-Cities. Explorers and other volunteers help to unload garments at the center's new location, 1412 Niedringhaus Ave. Designed to aid schoolage children only when opened in 1967, the new larger facility will enable other age groups to be assisted. Mrs. Vanetta Leimkuhler, center chairman, reports. S. M. Wilson contracting firm donated the truck for the move from smaller quarters at the Venice Homes.

DR. CYLVIA SORKIN, nationally known business consultant, economist, author and former Washington University professor, who will be guest speaker at the Church Women United's May Fellowship Celebration on May 7 at the First United Presbyterian Church in Granite City.

Dr. Cylvia Sorkin is May Fellowship speaker

Dr. Cylvia A. Sorkin, nationally recognized business consultant, economist, author and radio-television personality, will be the guest speaker at the Church Women United (CWU) May Fellowship Celebration on May 7 at the First United Presbyterian Church in Granite City.

Currently the director of Sorkin Associates, a business consulting firm located in St. Louis, Dr. Sorkin formerly was a university professor and chairman of the Graduate School Division of Counseling and personnel at Washington University.

She is in frequent demand by business firms as a consultant on matters of human relations, involving applied psychological problems; employer-employee relations; time and money-saving methods; and sound management techniques.

Dr. Sorkin's natural skill as an entertaining speaker has made the lecture platform a permanent part of her career. Her wit, coupled with a profound knowledge of her subjects and her manner of motivating and captivating an audience, is responsible for her international reputation as a speaker, a CWU spokesman noted.

Traveling over 100,000 miles annually, the guest speaker has appeared before several thousand groups. An expert in her field, she calls upon her experiences in education, business, travel and television to provide audiences with a provocative, entertaining and humorous program.

Dr. Sorkin is a regular guest on several popular television shows, including the Mike Douglas Show; The Amazing World of Kreskin; Kennedy and Company WLS-TV, Chicago; Morning Exchange, WEWS-TV, Cleveland; Larry Angel Show WIZ-TV, Baltimore; Regis Philbin Show, KMOX-TV, St. Louis; The Morning Show, KPIX-TV, San Francisco; and A. M. New York, A. M. Chicago, and A. M. Los Angeles.

In addition, she appears twice weekly on Radio Station KMOX "At Your Service" program in the local area.

Dr. Sorkin formerly served as Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson's Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Services, which met regularly at the Pentagon in Washington, D. C. She was awarded the Certificate of Appreciation from the United States Army for meritorious service to armed forces throughout the world by Secretary of the Army Brucker.

In February 1974, she was elected to the Board of Directors of Mercantile Bank in St. Louis County, the only woman to serve in that capacity.

A 10:30 a.m. brunch on May 7 will be under the direction of Mrs. Louise Orr, president of United Presbyterian Women. Mrs. Helen Johnson will serve as dining room chairman and Mrs. Lee Stevens and Mrs. Ernie Veihl as hospitality chairmen.

The public is invited to attend. Tickets may be purchased for $2 from any of the CWU church representatives, or by calling 831-0420.

As has been the custom in the past, those attending share in the preparation of the brunch by preparing a portion of the meal. Any appropriate breakfast or luncheon dish may be provided or recipes may be obtained by calling the hospitality co-chairmen.

Babysitters will be provided.

Civic Ballet to perform Sunday

Miss Karen Stawar, 2569 Buenger Blvd., and Miss Jill Sterling, who resides at the Granite City Army Installation, will perform with the Community Civic Ballet Company at 3 p.m. Sunday at Webster School, 108 Church St., Collinsville.

Both young women are students at the Irene Gintautas School of Classical Ballet in Caseyville. Miss Stawar is a student at Granite City High School North and Miss Sterling at Caseyville South High School.

The company, which consists of dancers from area communities, will perform a joint concert with the Belleville Philharmonic Youth Orchestra. Selections from Faust, Scheherazade, Swan Lake and Carnival of Animals will be presented.

The public is invited to attend the concert. Tickets may be purchased at the door, costing $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. Group rates also are available by calling 632-3575.

Education is chapter topic

A cultural program on "Education" was presented by Mrs. Norma Rains at a meeting last week of Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

She stressed finding classrooms that best suits a child from a parents' viewpoint and led a discussion on the open classroom, fundamental schools, non-graded classes, free and the behavior schools. Also reviewed were educational television programs.

Members met in the home of Mrs. Delores Dortch, 1729 Moro Ave.

President Mrs. Evelyn Tolliver read a letter from the Easter Seal Society, relating to a drive for contributions, and Mrs. Arlene Haldeman gave a report on results of a ways and means project.

Reservations for the Founders Day banquet still are being accepted. The event will be held Wednesday at Charlie's Restaurant. A mother-daughter tea is planned for May 16 in the home of Mrs. Lora Mae Lombardi.

The Exemplar Day social with the Alton Exemplar Chapter as guests will be May 12 in the home of Mrs. Jane Laue. Mrs. Friedman gave the resume of the sorority City Council meeting and Mrs. Rains announced tickets are available for the "I'll Now" home tour in the Webster Groves area to benefit the Edgewood Children's Center.

After the business session, Mrs. Tolliver conducted a quiz on the Beta Sigma Phi manual. The hostess served a dessert course to those mentioned and to Betty Ebling, Pat Tsigalaroff, Lora Lombardi and Ruth Stoyanoff.

VEGETABLE GARDEN FERTILIZER

SOME VEGETABLE FERTILIZERS TELL YOU TO PUT IT ON TWO OR THREE TIMES A CROP. THAT'S BECAUSE THEIR NITROGEN "RELEASES" RIGHT AWAY, AND AFTER A SHORT TIME THERE'S VERY LITTLE LEFT. YOU ONLY USE SCOTTS VEGETABLE GARDEN FERTILIZER ONCE (UNLESS) YOU HAPPEN TO LIVE IN THE SOUTH AND HAVE VERY SANDY SOIL. IT'S MADE IN A UNIQUE WAY THAT HOLDS SOME OF ITS NITROGEN BACK FOR LATER. SO YOUR PLANTS NOT ONLY GET OFF TO A QUICK, STURDY START, THEY ALSO GET A LITTLE MORE EVERY DAY TO HELP KEEP THEM GROWING. RESULT? A GARDEN FULL OF VEGETABLES THAT MAKES GARDENING WORTHWHILE. TRY SCOTTS VEGETABLE GARDEN FERTILIZER THIS SPRING. IT'S WELL WORTH THE PRICE.

Contour T-Lok vinyl is the PERFECT siding
it belongs on your home.

You'll find the cost easy to finance. And, with the money and time you save during the coming years, you can start doing the things you like to do. Mail the card today for a free estimate. No obligation of course.

VINYL IS FINAL!

Solid Vinyl is the most maintenance-free house covering ever developed. Needs no paint because it is solid color all the way through...won't dent, rust or corrode like metal...it is unaffected by acids...and won't absorb moisture. Keeps your home beautiful for years and years with an absolute minimum of maintenance.

HOMEOWNERS: Before you paint or repair... decide if you want to keep pouring money into constant painting and repairs in the years ahead, and learn how you can avoid this with solid vinyl. Remember, you get a free gift just for taking the time.

CHECK THESE EXCLUSIVE "MONEY SAVING" FEATURES

This great siding needs no painting. You just wash it clean. Imagine how the savings mount up over the years.

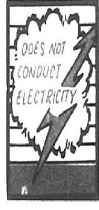

Won't dent like metal. Vinyl is tough and resilient. Impact which would damage most other sidings will not affect solid vinyl.

Just clean it with the hose or a sponge, and mild detergent. Abrasive cleaner can be used for stubborn stains without damage. It looks like new year after year.

Helps protect your home from destructive insects like termites.

Provides a margin of safety for your family as it does not attract lightning or require an electrical grounding system.
